Life's a pudding full of plums;
Care's a canker that
benumbs,
Wherefore waste our elocution
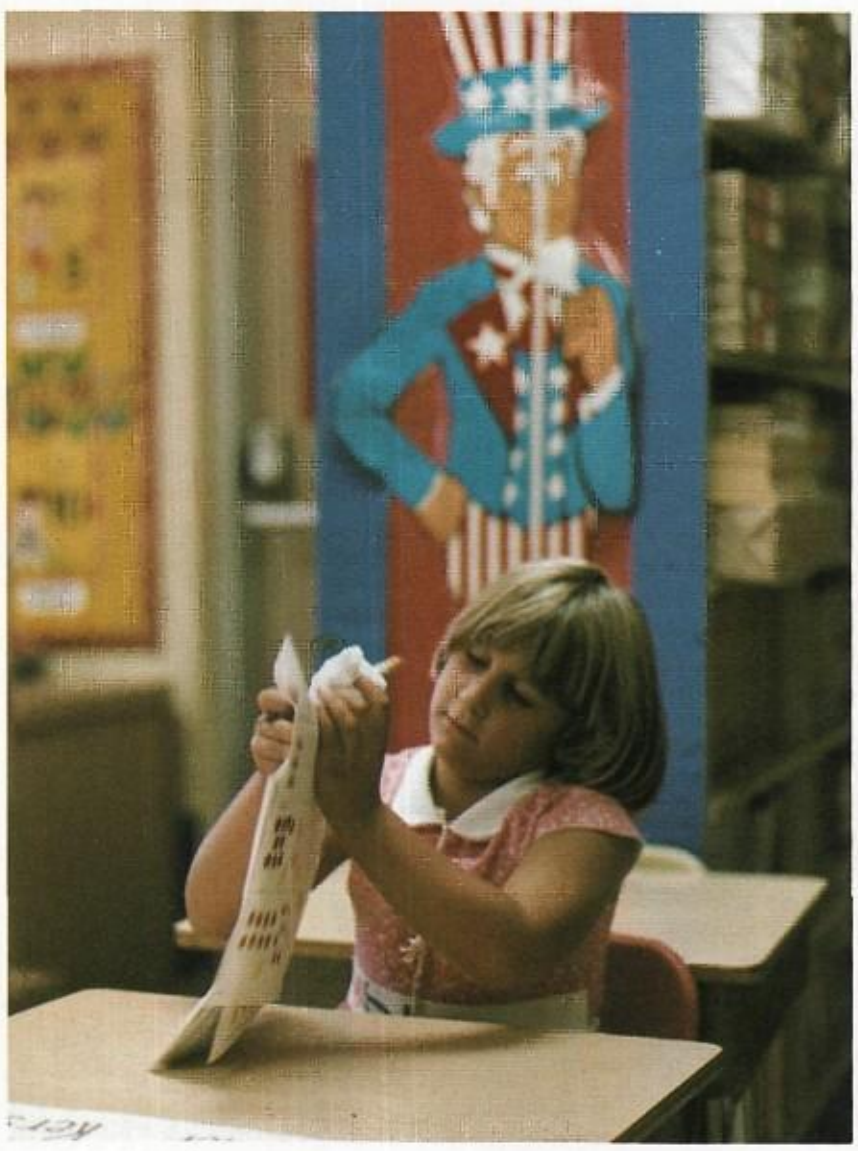
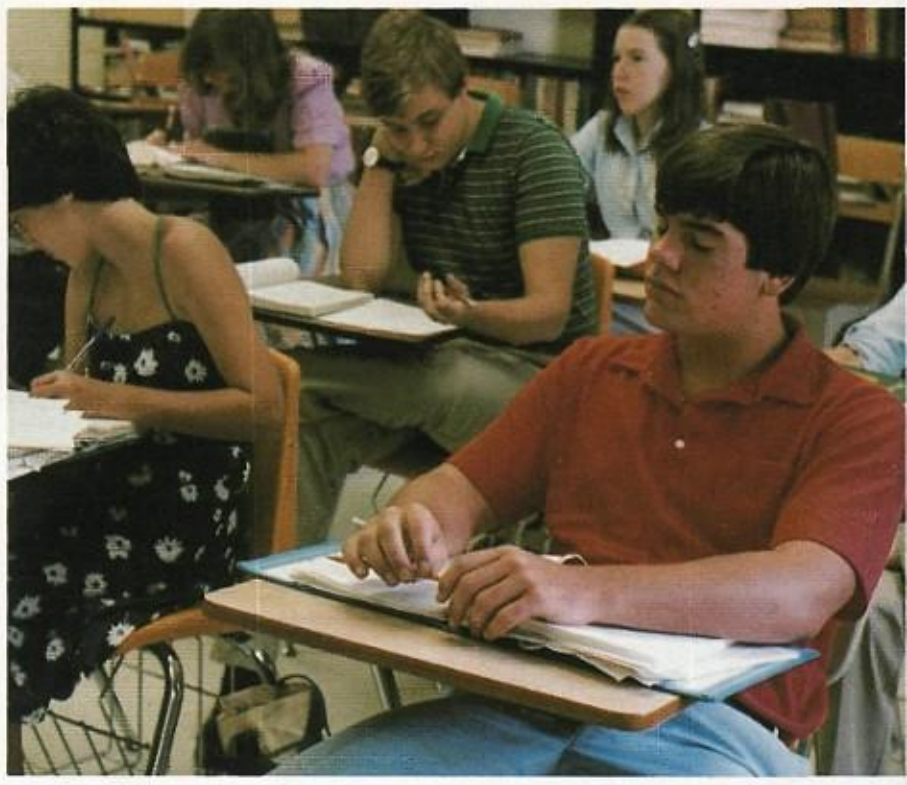
On impossible solution?
Life's a pleasant institution,
Let us take it as it comes!

William S. Gilbert
The Gondoliers





By labor and intent study (which I take to be my portion in this life), joined with the strong propensity of nature, I might perhaps leave something so written to after-times, as they should not willingly let it die.

John Milton
The Reason of Church Government

O, Wonderful, wonderful, and most wonderful, wonderful! and yet again wonderful! and after that out of all whooping.

William Shakespeare, As You Like It

The time we have at our disposal every day is elastic; the passions that we feel expand it, those that we inspire contract it; and habit fills up what remains.

Marcel Proust, Within a Budding Grove

A source of innocent merriment!

William S. Gilbert, The Mikado

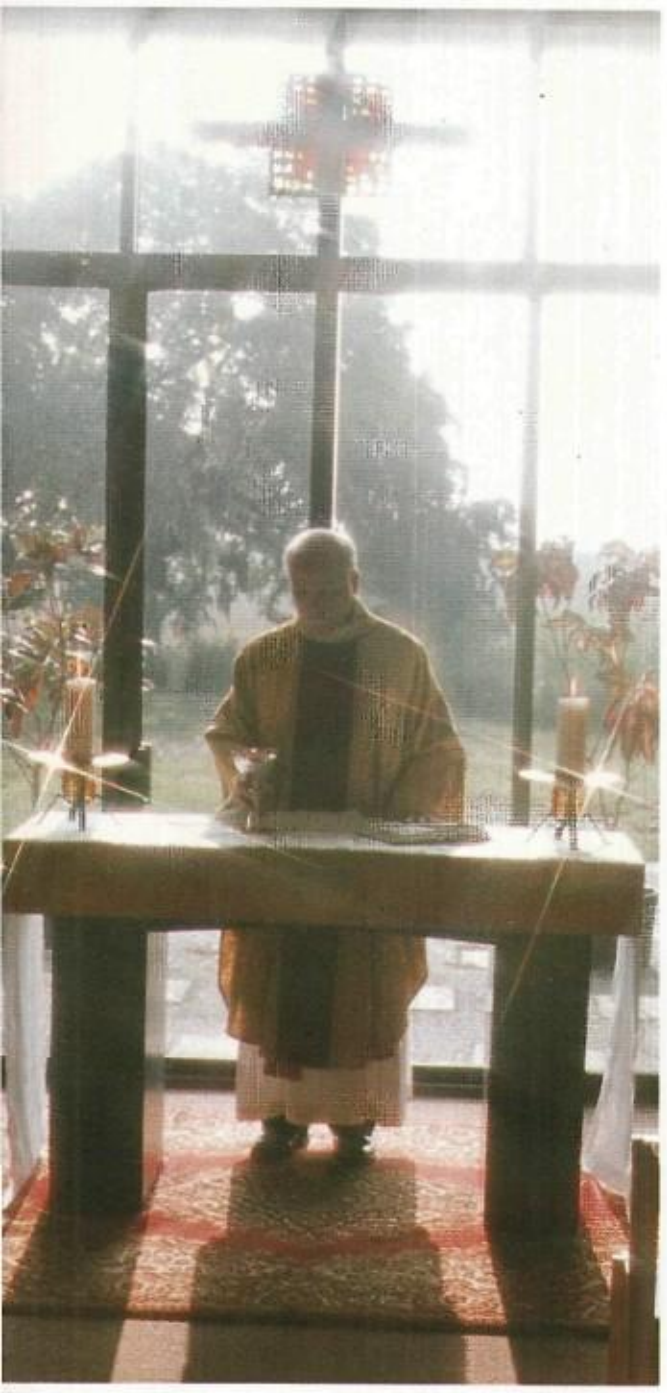
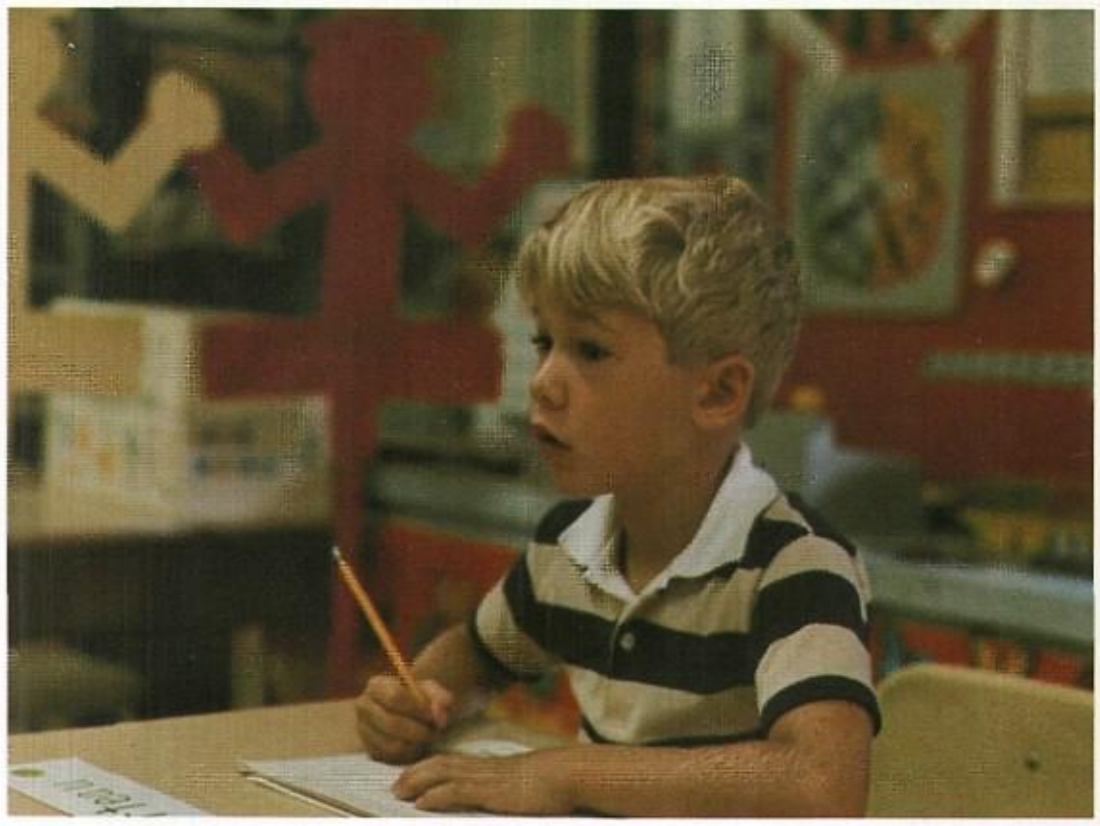
Work consists of whatever a body is obliged to do . . . Play consists of whatever a body is not obliged to do.
Mark Twain
The Adventures of Tom Sawyer

Blessed is he who expects nothing, for he shall never be disappointed.

Jonathan Swift





Experience is the name everyone gives to their mistakes.

Oscar Wilde, Lady Windermere's Fan

Enough work to do, and strength enough to do the work.

Rudyard Kipling, A Doctor's Work

I have discovered that all human evil comes from this, man's being unable to sit still in a room.

Blaise Pascal, Pensees

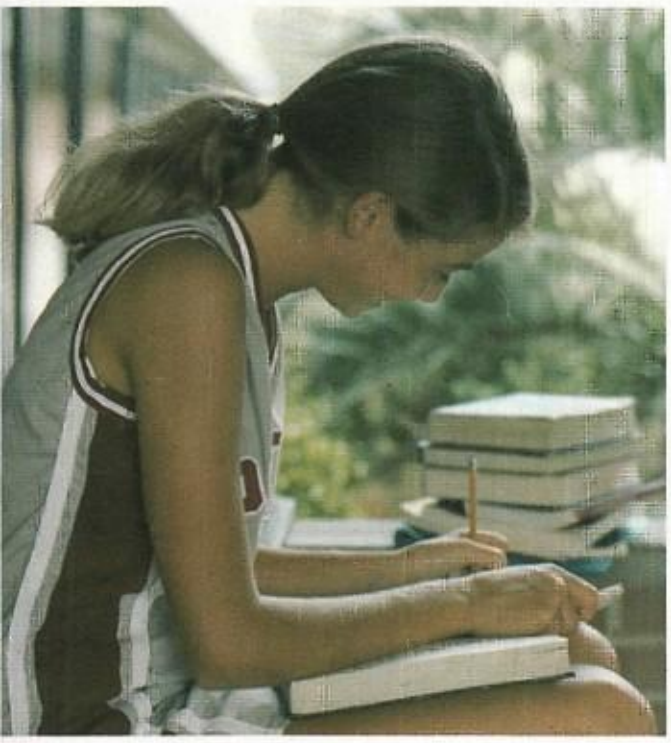
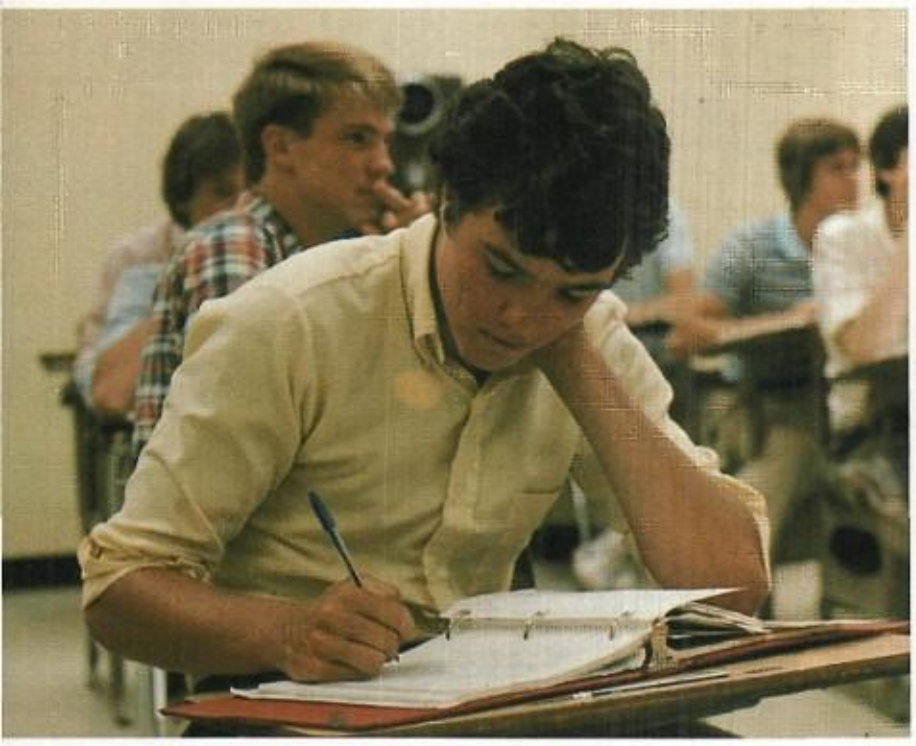
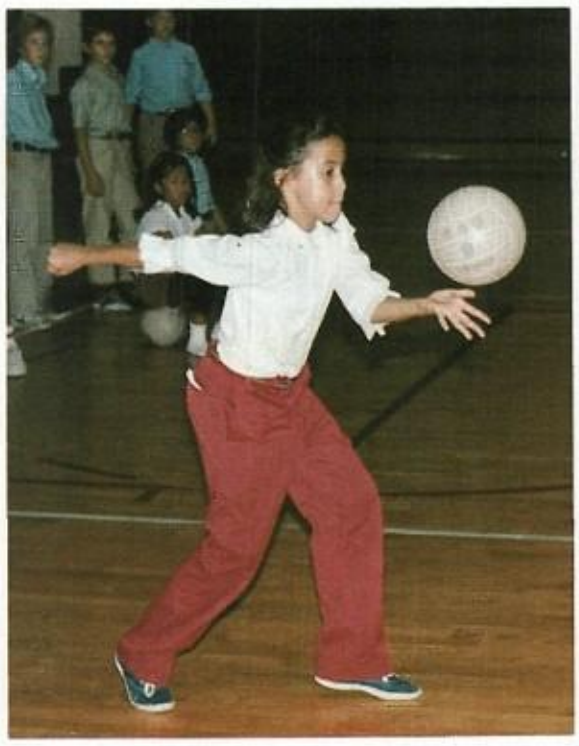
Triumph is just "umph" added to "try."
J. G. Holland







There is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so.

William Shakespeare, Hamlet

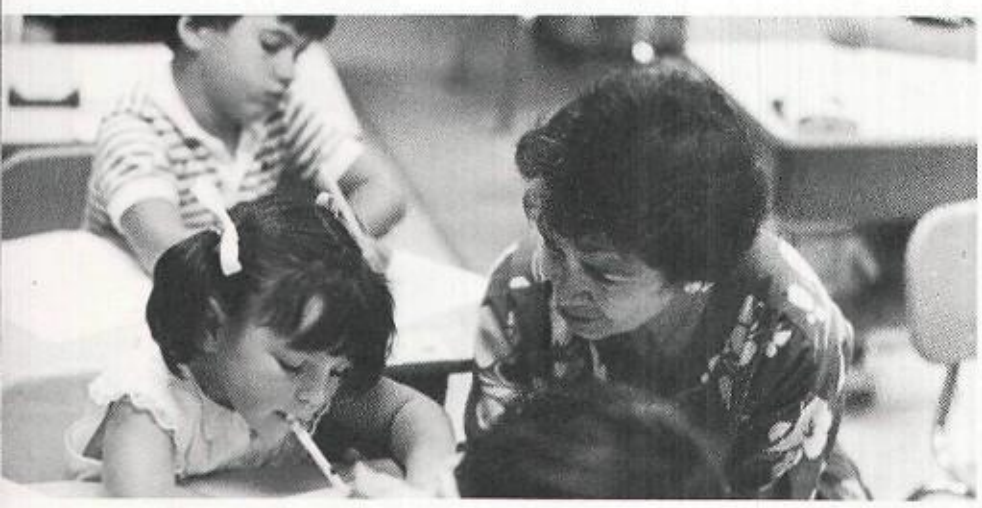
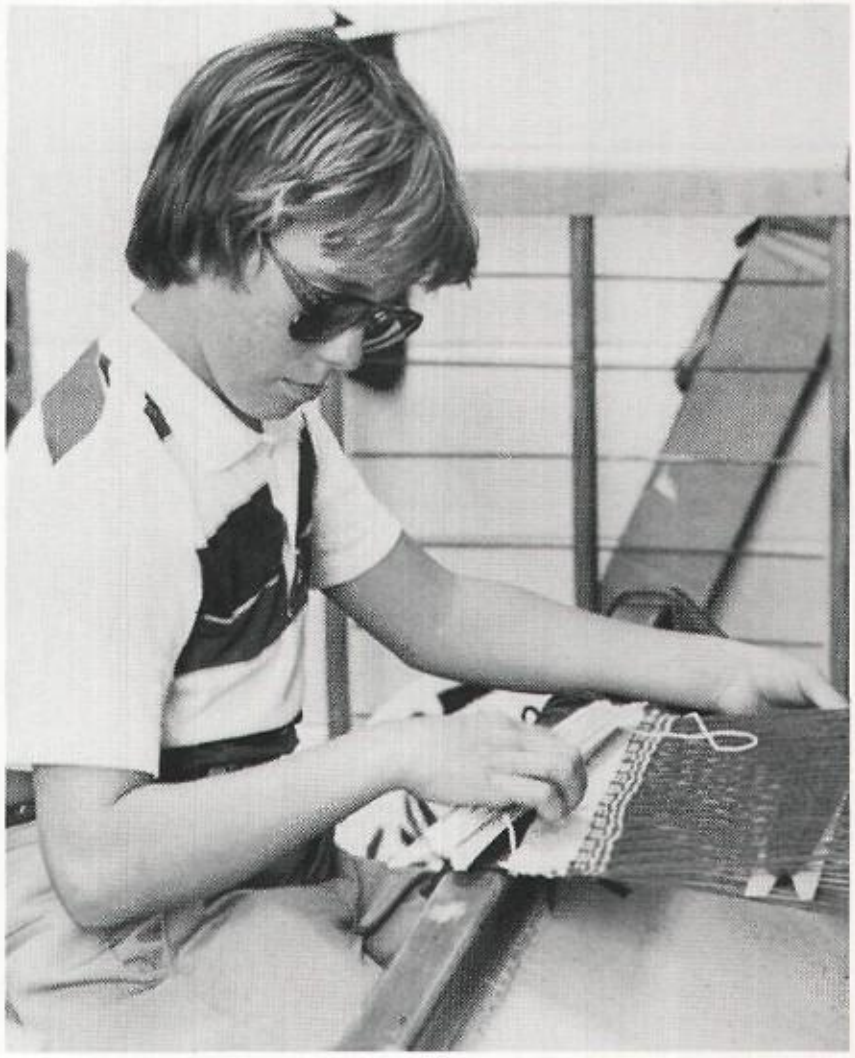
Do all the good you can,
By all the means you can,
In all the ways you can,
In all the places you can,
At all the times you can,
To all the people you can,
As long as ever you can.

John Wesley's Rule



Genius is one percent inspiration and ninety-nine percent perspiration.

Thomas Edison



Will and Intellect are one and the same thing.

Benedict (Baruch) Spinoza, Ethics

Training is everything. The peach was once a bitter almond; cauliflower is nothing but cabbage with a college education.

Mark Twain, Pudd'nhead Wilson

Few things are harder to put up with than the annoyance of a good example.
Mark Twain, Pudd'nhead Wilson

The Life of the Party

An English professor Mr. Whit,
Conducted his classes with wit.
His limericks caused
Great rounds of applause
For whatever student got "hit"!

This same English teacher would sit
At his desk till the talking had quit.
Then with a loud choke,
He told one good joke
To loosen his class up a bit.

Then on to poetry and prose,
He lectured and paced down the rows
Of students who stated
That they were fascinated
Till he stopped and began blowing his nose.

You really have made English fun,
From A.P. to plain English 1.
So this Senior Class
Has voted en masse
To give you your "day in the sun."

And so here's to you Mr. Whit!
For this one you really should sit.
The Polygon '83
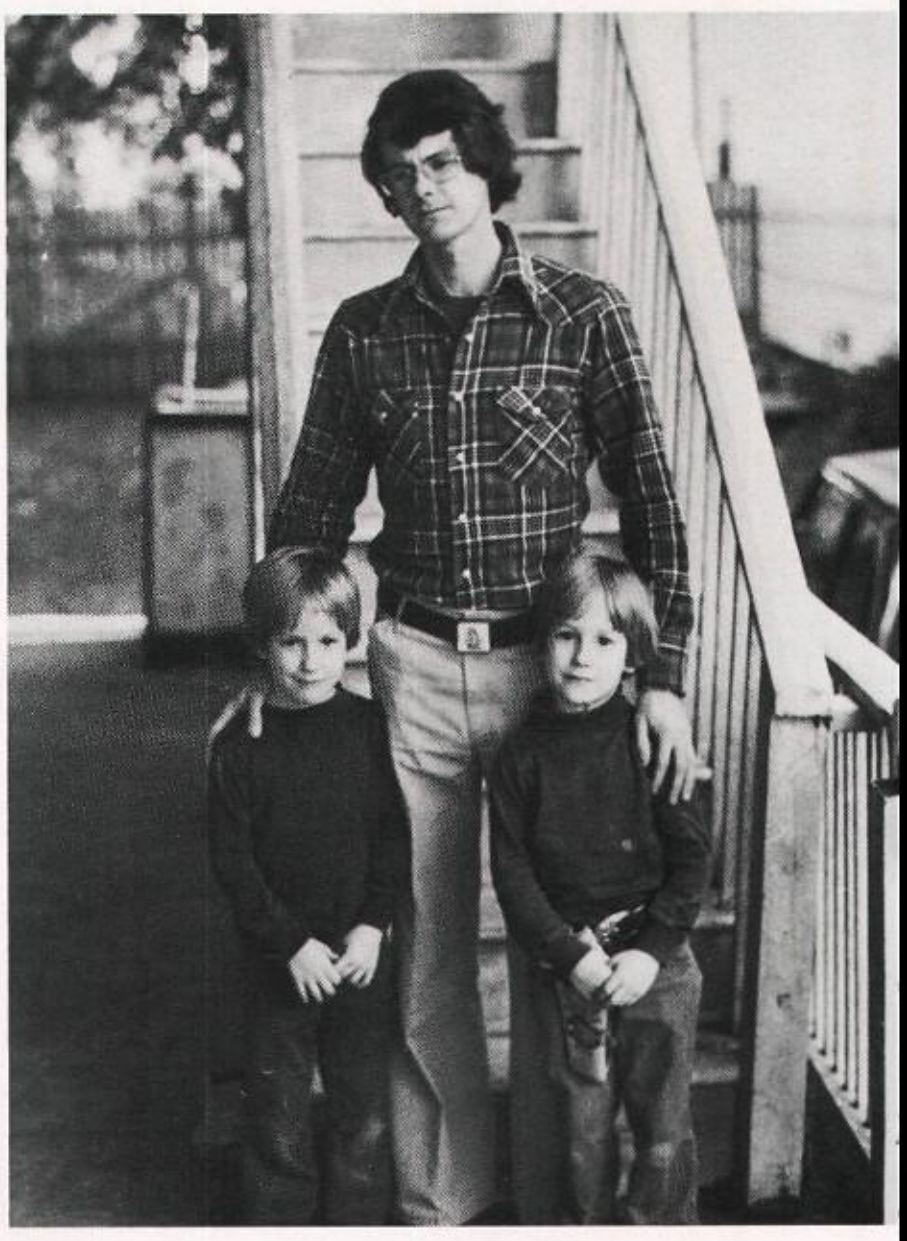
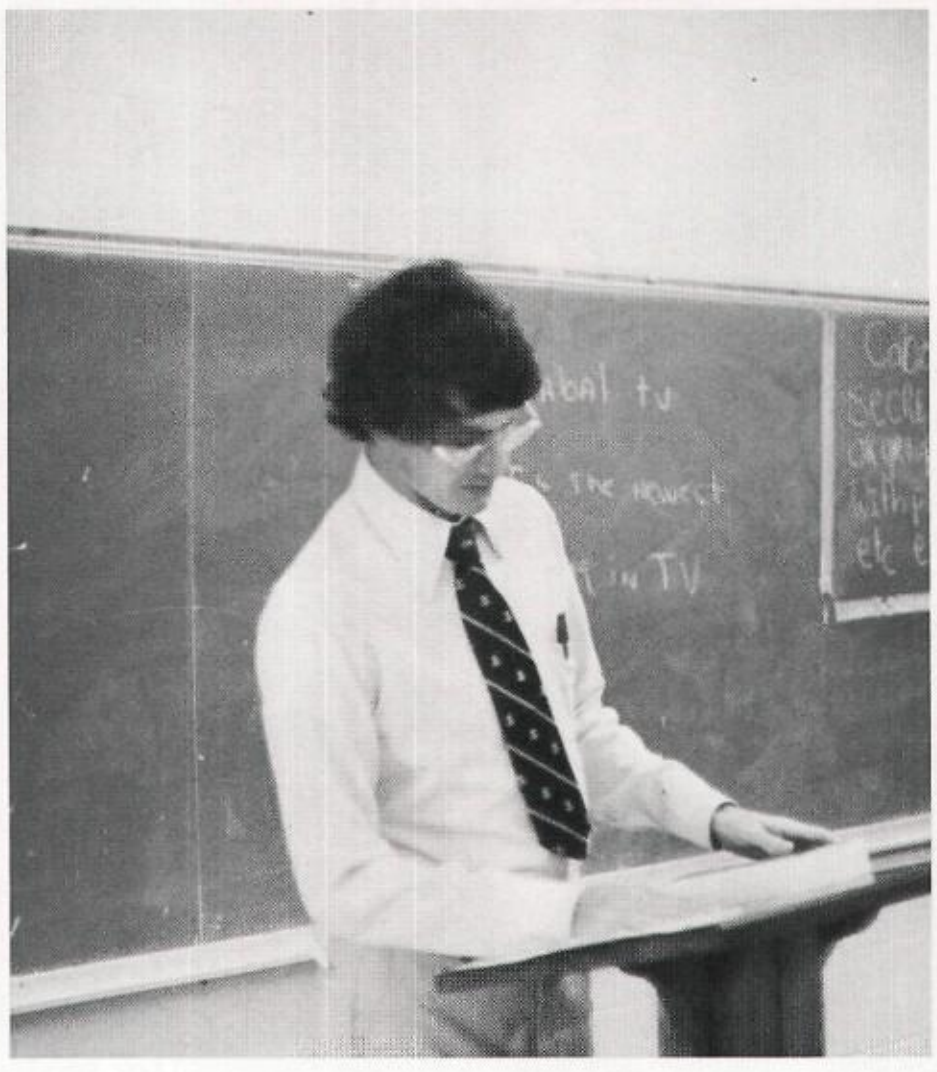
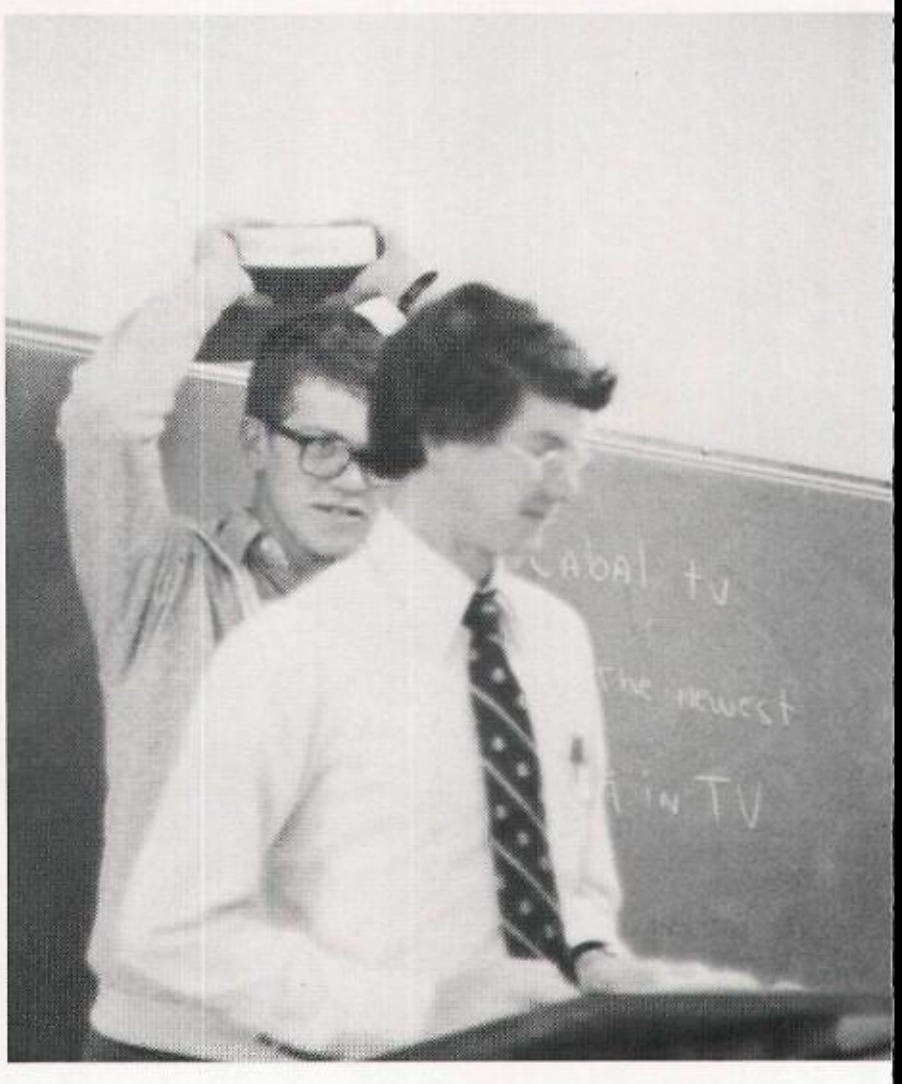
We dedicate to thee
And hope you will like it a bit.







Mr. Whitaker teaches classes ranging from 7th grade English to Senior A. P. English. He works individually with each student on his or her writing and gives his students a special appreciation for literature by emphasizing that their interpretations are as valid and meaningful as standard ones. Students look forward to playing the games he has created to help them learn vocabulary, and his classes are characterized by their casual atmosphere, interesting discussions, and the right blend of humor and seriousness.

Mr. Whitaker has taught at Porter-Gaud for eight years and has been the head of the English department for the past seven years. He is married to Mrs. Jessie Rogers Whitaker and has two sons, Simon and Stephen, and a daughter, Molly.

We proudly dedicate the 1983 Polygon to George Wightman Whitaker, III.

He teaches standing on his toes.
His student dassn't doze and does,
And that's what teaching is and

There is something marvelous in music. I might almost say it is, in itself, a marvel. Its position somewhere between the region of thought and that of phenomena; a glimmering medium between min and matter, related to both and yet differing from either. Spiritual, and yet requiring rhythm; materia and yet independent of space.

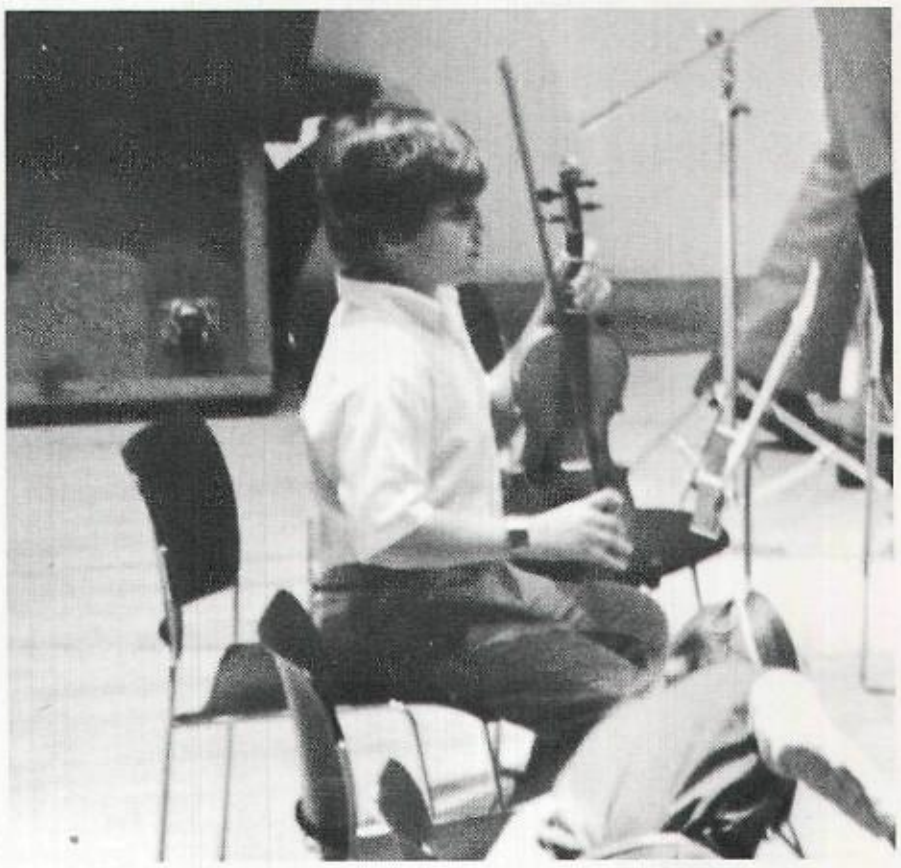
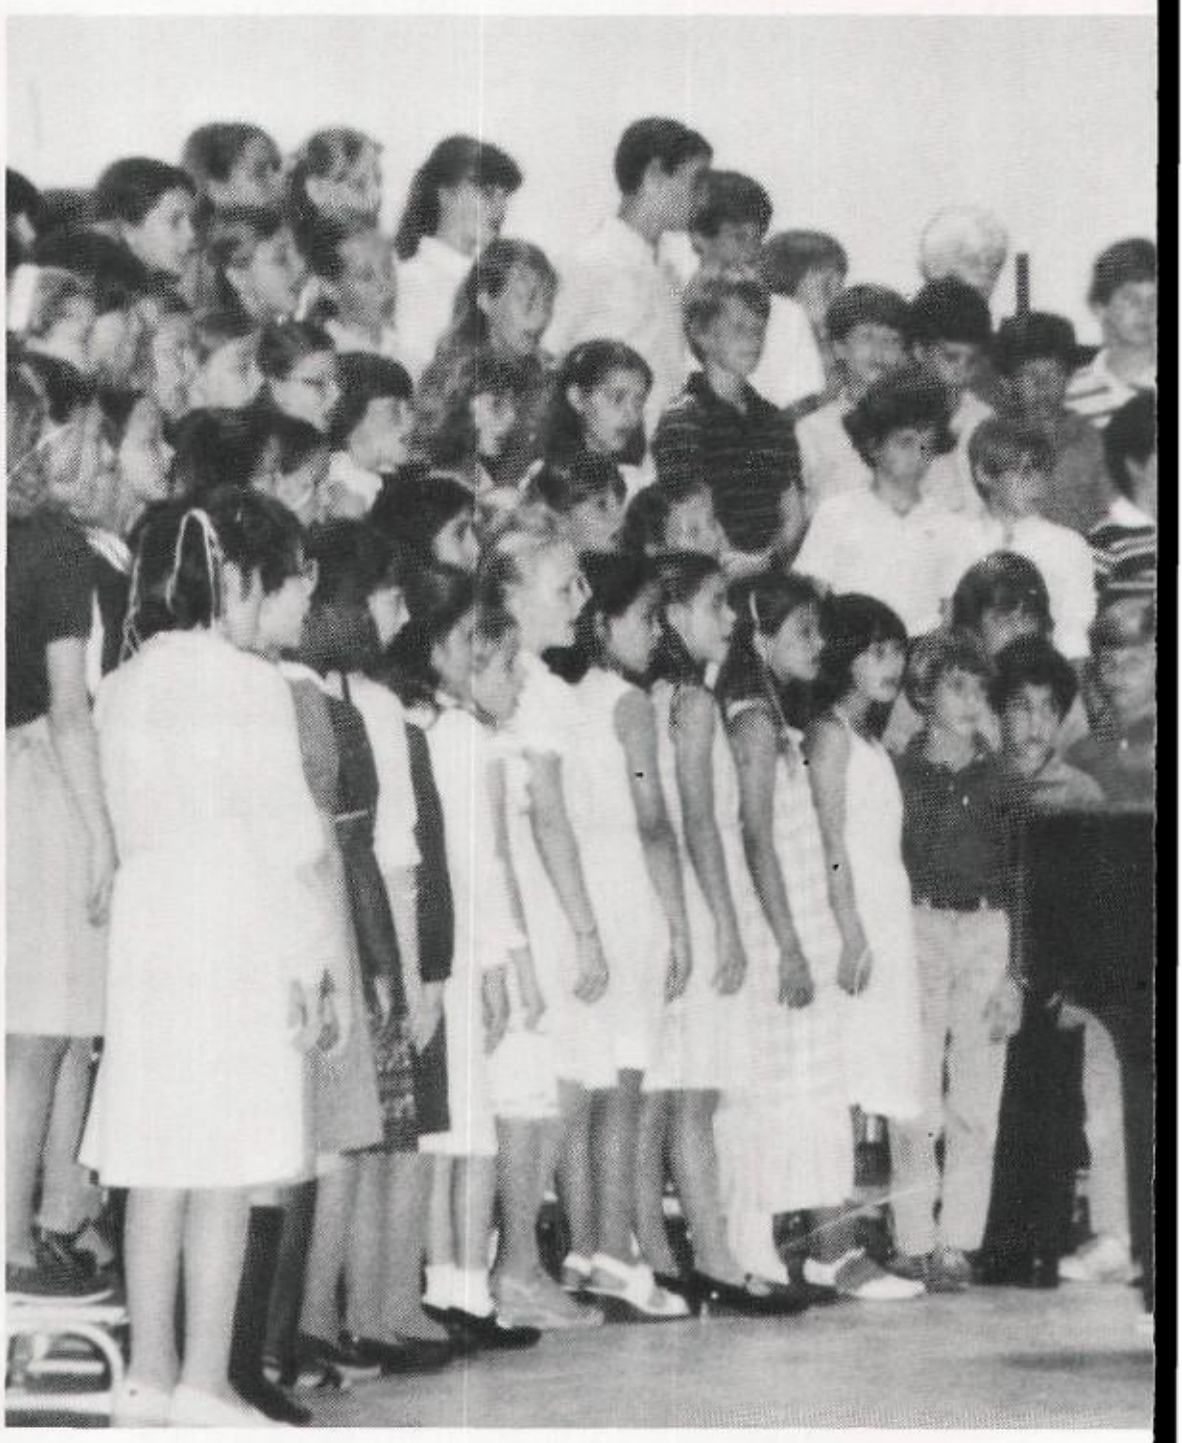
One of the hardest working groups on campus is the Beginning Orchestra. Directed and conducted by Mrs. Ruth Goldsmith, the orchestra delighted their audience in their annual fall concert. Throughout the year, the orchestra entered various competitions where they were very successful.



I know only two tunes; one of them is "Yankee Doodle," and the other isn't.
U.S. Grant

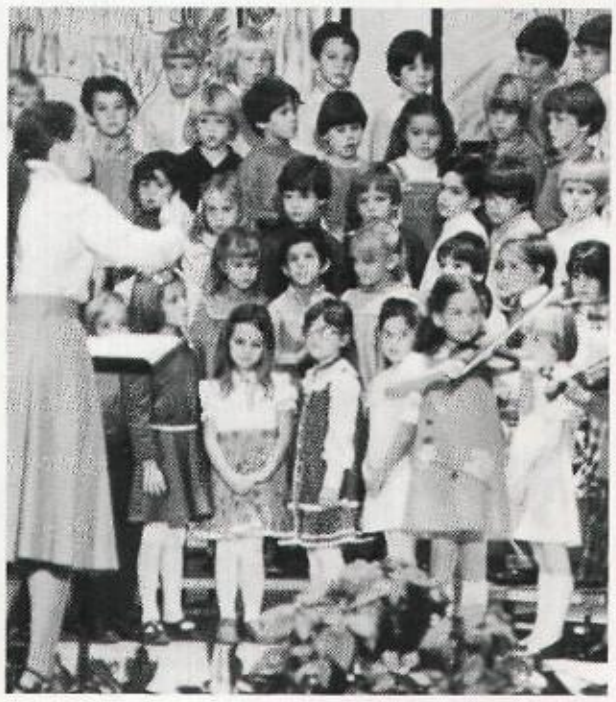
The Lower School Boys and Girls Choirs, under the direction of Mrs. Gay Brabham, as well as the fourth and fifth grade boys choirs, under the direction of Mr. Ben Hutto, put in much hard work each week to prepare for the several very enjoyable concerts performed this year. The Founder's Day concert was the first. The highlight was the performance of musical selections from the broadway musical, Annie. As always, the Lower School Choirs' Christmas Program was enjoyed by all. The choirs sang on various occasions for Lower School chapel and worked diligently throughout the rest of the year to prepare for the spring concert.



Say it with music.

Irving Berlin

This year the Primary Christmas program was more beautiful than ever. Directed by Jessie R. Whitaker, the first through third graders performed a cantata by Joe E. Parks called A Night to Remember, as well as secular Christmas music. Gay C. Brabham accompanied on the piano and many students added to the accompaniment by playing such instruments as the autoharp, bells, drums, rhythm intruments and violins.



Each week students look forward to music class (the primary grades taught by Mrs. Whitaker and the elementary grades taught by Mrs. Brabham). They learn to play such intruments as the autoharp, guitar, bells, rhythm instruments, drums and recorders. They also learn the basics of music appreciation and theory.

The Art Council, in its first year, was designed as a service organization to help Porter-Gaud and the community. The council was selected by Mrs. Gibson and Miss Wannamaker from the fifth and sixth grade on the basis of leadership, responsibility, and cooperation.

They started out the year by participating in ROAR to help the county library. In December they helped run the school Arts and Crafts Bazaar. In January, the council raised money to send to the Bera Museum in Milan, Italy for the restoration of Leonardo DaVinci's Last Supper. They were the sponsors of a multi-school art show in February and an art sale on Saint Philips' fence.

Science Clubs are open to students in grades five and six on a term membership in order to give everyone an opportunity to belong. Students may choose to experiment in such fields as chromotography, marine biology, skeletal preparation, rocket building, crystal growing, and pinhole cameras. Afternoon and weekend field trips often supplement the investigations. Mrs. Harrison is advisor to the Science Clubs.

Sing louder around
To the bells' cheerful sound,
While our sports shall be seen.
On the echoing green.

William Blake

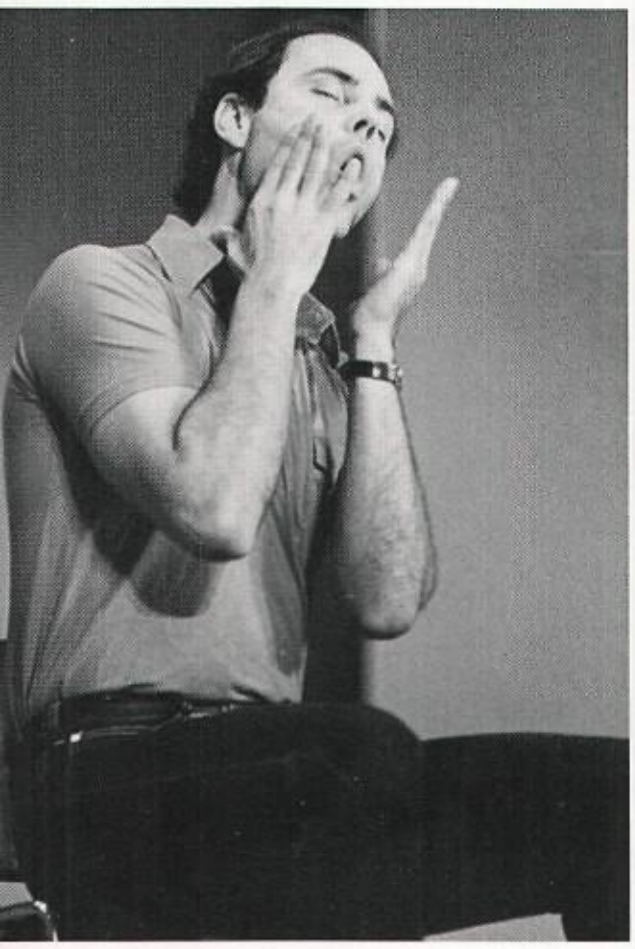
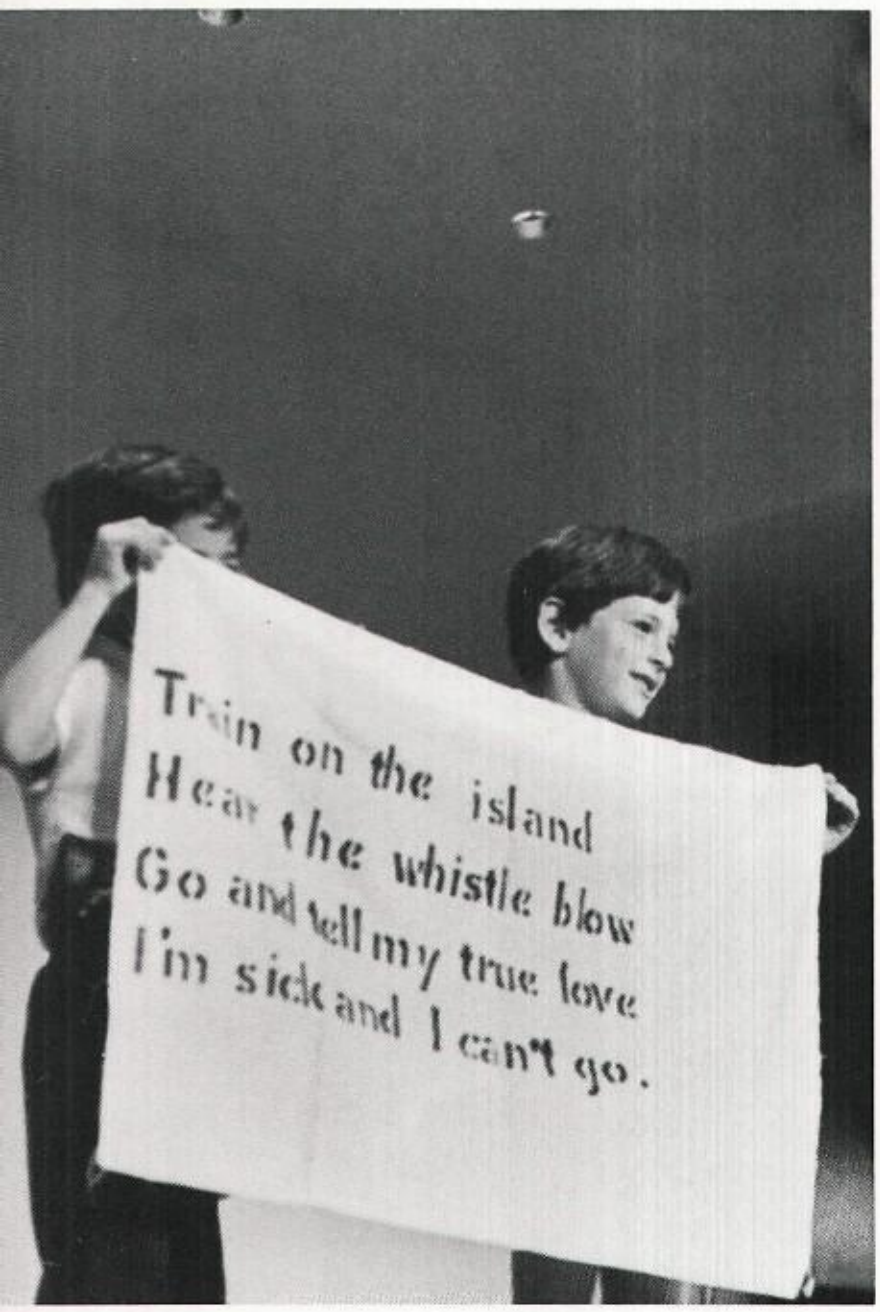
For many, the main attraction of the year was the spring Field Day, on which students in grades 4-6 compete in a variety of track and field events. The Field Day is run like a regular track meet and ribbons are given to the winners. Students work hard to break the records of past years.

Grades 1-3 have a similar day, called Playday, in which students test their running skills and participate in such games as tug o'war, sack races, and bean bag races.

But where shall wisdom be found? and where is the place of understanding?

Job 28:12





Each week grades 4-6 and 1-3 assemble in the auditorium for chapel or a special program. The students look forward to carrying banners or crosses and bringing flowers for the altar. Each year guests are invited to participate in assemblies. The highlight this year was David Holt who specializes in Appalachian mountain folk music. The students were taught the basic skills of Ham-Bone as well as a few old folk songs. Mr. Holt demonstrated playing the banjo, fiddle, spoons, and paper bag. It all added up to great fun.

Teach us delight in simple things,
And mirth that has no bitter springs.

Special occasions of all sorts and descriptions liven up Lower School life. Parties, parents, guest speakers, and friends add much to early educational pleasure.

Robert Louis Stevenson

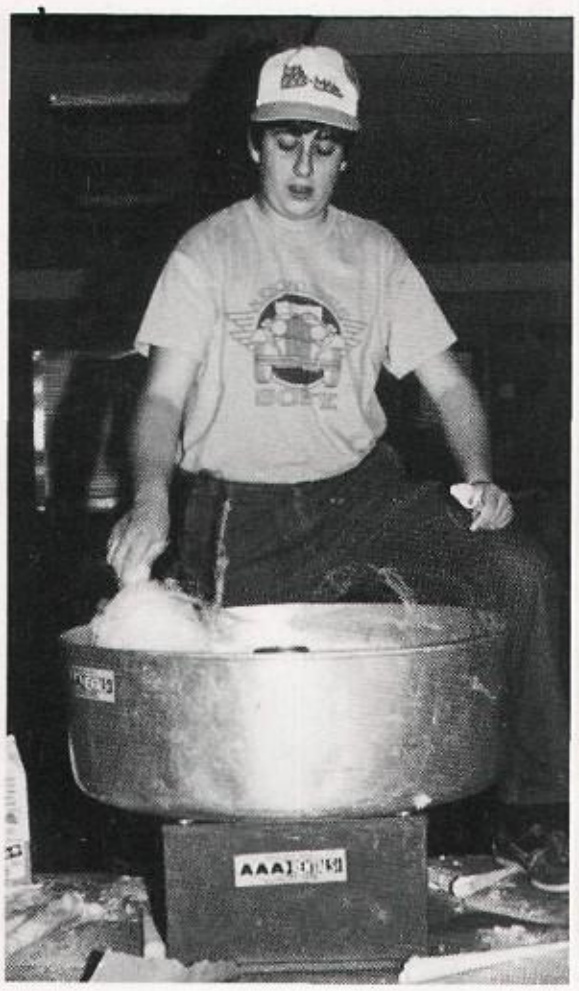
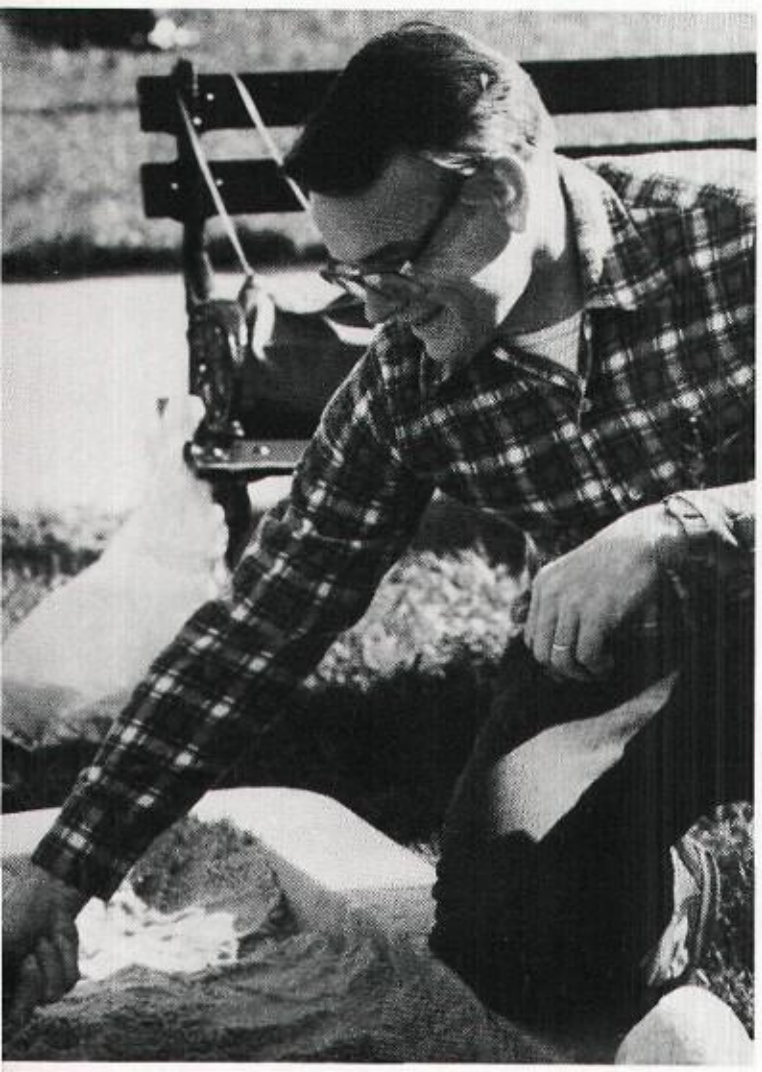
Enthusiasm is the best protection in any situation. Wholeheartedness is contagious. Give yourself, you wish to get others.

David Seabury

The Carnival

This year the carnival was enjoyed by everyone — teachers, students, munchkins, and parents alike. The enjoyment alone justified the many hours of hard work and preparation by Sharon Benmaman, Mr. Corley, and all the other teachers and clubs who participated. The carnival represented the greatest effort by the entire school to work together towards a common goal. We played and worked hard together and improved last year's total earnings by about one thousand dollars. Perhaps, one sentence best summarized that Saturday in the fall: "For fun we put on the Carnival; for charity we worked hard at it!"





Vestry

As the largest group on campus, the Vestry completes countless projects for the school and community. They bring interesting speakers to Christian chapel services, and they help in the production of Lessons and Carols. They encourage participation of the entire student body in the Sanders Clyde Tutoring, the Brookland Home for Boys, and the Blood Days which are held throughout the year. The members of the Vestry can also be found at weekend conferences at Saint Christopher, where all learn the importance of the organization in the school and in the community.

Jewish Chapel Committee

The Jewish Chapel Committee contributes an alternate chapel for students of the Jewish faith and also serves to educate the student body on the Jewish religion and customs. This committee is active in the school, having participated in the Carnival and having presented programs to the student body. They are responsible for planning the speakers and programs which are presented every Wednesday in Jewish Chapel.

Honor Council

The Honor Council, composed of all the class presidents and an elected honor council representative from each class, is chaired by the Student Body Vice-President. Its purpose is to promote the idea of personal honor and to maintain the effectiveness of the honor code. They participate in the Leadership Training Conference and in special chapel programs, in which they show how the honor code can be more effectively enforced. The Honor Council is required to hear cases of honor code violations and make recommendations for action to the school administration.

Student Council

The purpose of the Student Council is to make Porter-Gaud a better place to attend. They look for ways in which they can improve the school. Among other things, they keep track of club activities, reach out into the community, and meet weekly to discuss school issues. Their officers officially represent the student body in all capacities.

Leadership Training Conference

This year, student leaders as well as certain faculty members attended a training conference held at Porter-Gaud in late August. Issues of importance for the upcoming year were discussed. By bringing the issues to open discussion, both the students and the faculty can contribute their own ideas of ways of improving life at Porter-Gaud.

Debate Team

Three thousand years ago, the Ancient Greeks believed the art of rhetoric to be one of the seven most important parts of an education. Today, the Porter-Gaud Debate Team provides a chance for interested students to establish skill in this ancient art. In addition to debating, members may participate in extemporaneous speaking and acting. Each month the team travels to a different debate tournament, with some matches as far away as Gatlinburg, Tennessee.

WATCH

This year the members of the WATCH, the Porter-Gaud School magazine, have been an extremely dedicated group who, besides producing a well-organized source for news, fiction, poetry, sports, and humor, have taken valuable time to tutor Edward, Mrs. Izlar's son. This service was done in return for Mrs. Izlar's help with the WATCH, which she typed entirely. This was one more reason this year's WATCH was the best ever.

Community Outreach Committee

This year the Student Council initiated a new program which they named Community Outreach. This group consists of Porter-Gaud students who are willing to give up their time to administer to the needs of the community. With the help of Mary Green and Mr. Young, all the projects were successful. We feel that this is a good start for a longlasting program.

Bus Drivers

ne bus drivers are responsible for the transportation of a le number of the student body each day to and from ol. They also provide transportation for many athletic, arts, and academic events throughout the year. Up long re many of the rest of us, their job continues well into the noon. We appreciate their dedication and the excellent hey do.

The Unknown Cheerleaders are a talented group of individuals who exhibit their uniqueness and usual talent on the football field to inspire the team to greatness.

Art Is a Creative Explosion

Porter-Gaud art students work in a number of media, such as oil painting, drawing, pottery, jewelery making, engraving, printmaking, stain glass, and textile crafts. Porter-Gaud art students' works are entered in a number of art contests, such as The National Talents Search, Charleston Artist Guild Contest, and Charleston Senior Art Contest.

Criticism is easy, art is difficult.

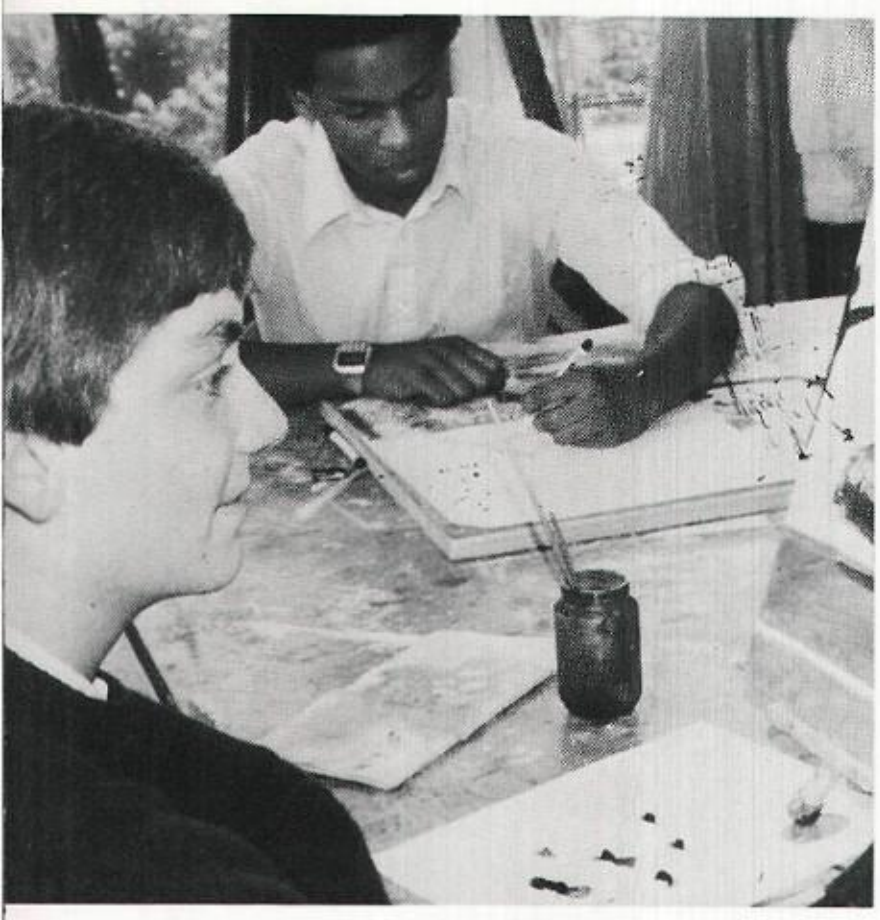
F. von Schiller
Wallenstein's
Lager



Students work hard in the many areas of art in order to prepare for exhibits at the Dock Street Theater's Greenroom, Thalhimers, St. Philip's Church fence, and various other places. Student art work is always on display in Gwynette Hall, the main office, and the Fine Arts Building Gallery.

Now art should never try to be popular. The public should try to make itself artistic.

Oscar Wilde
The Soul of Man Under Socialism

The fifth annual Art Bazaar was sponsored by the Lower School Art Department to raise money for special art supplies and equipment. The sale included art work and crafts of prominent local artists and student artists from all grades at Porter-Gaud, as well as baked goods donated by many dedicated parents. This year's bazaar was a great success in every way.

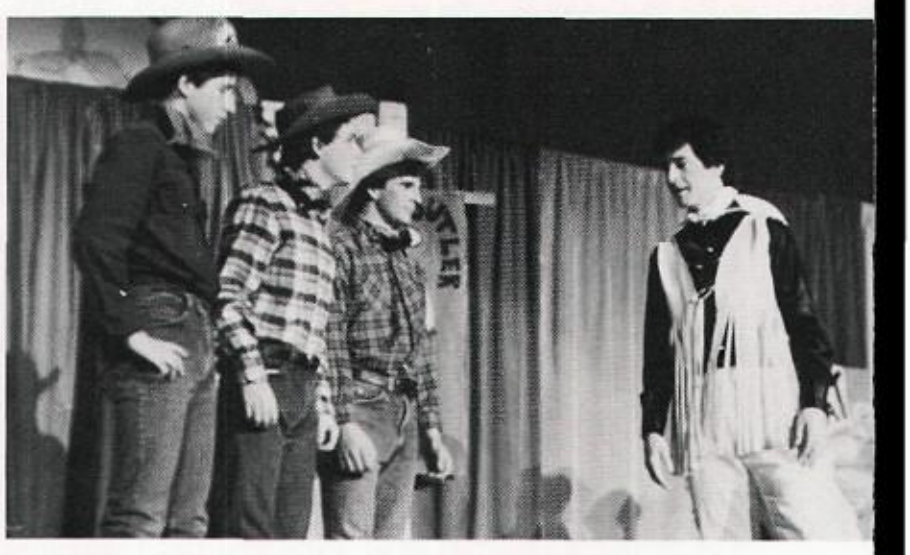
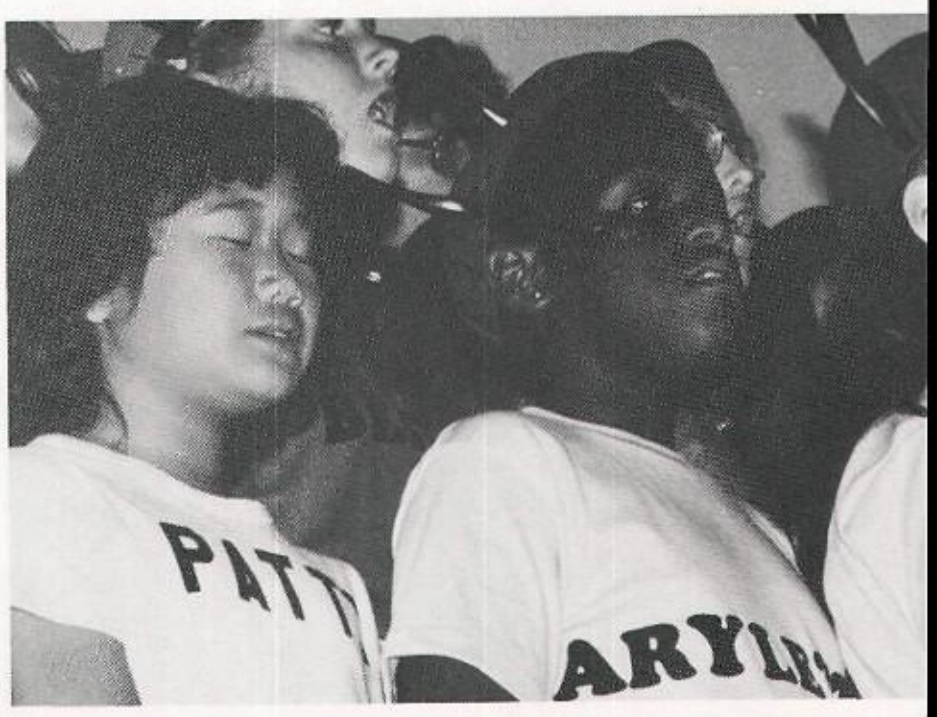
Annie Get Your Gun

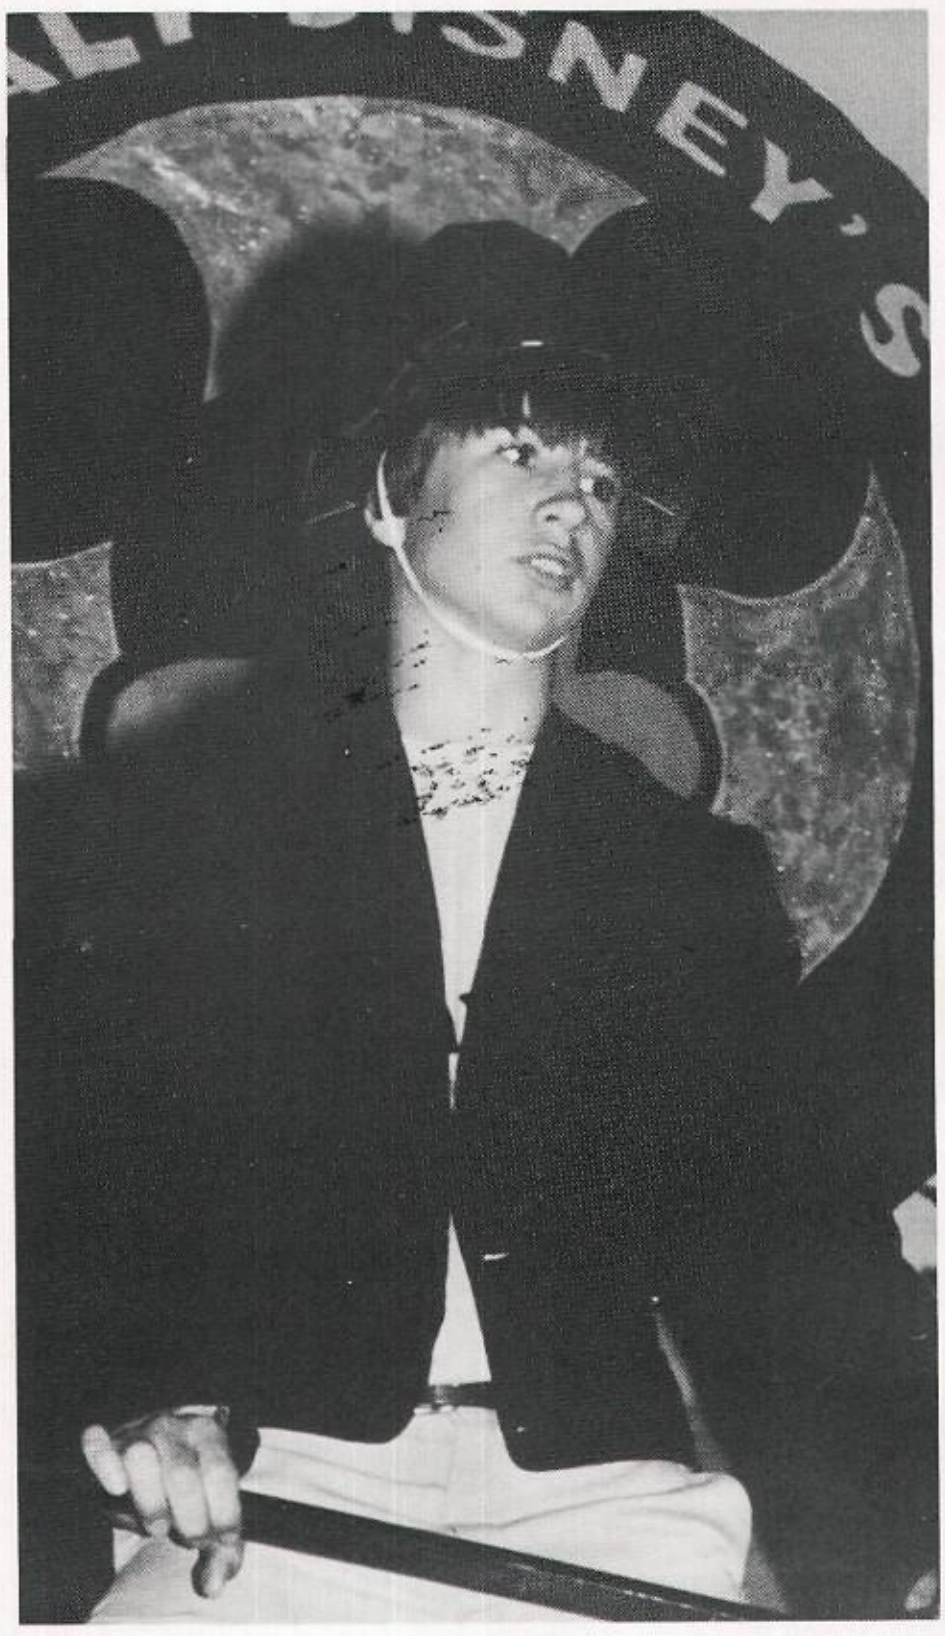


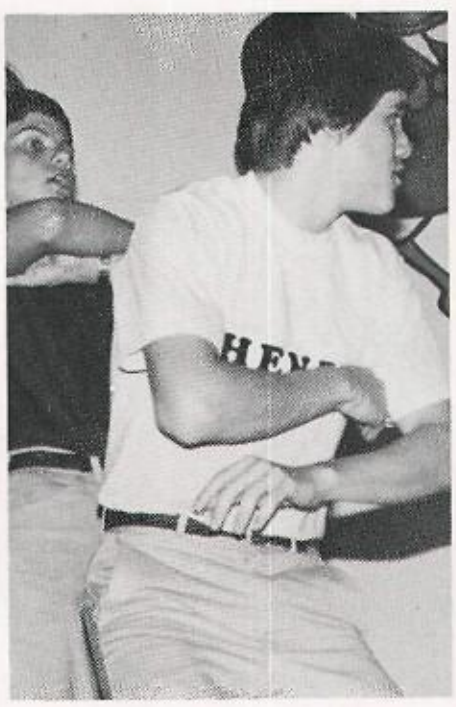
By Irving Berlin

Annie Get Your Gun, the famous musical by Irving Berlin, was performed at Porter-Gaud in March. Directed by George Loukides, and with Mackie Krawcheck in the title role as Annie Oakley, it was a big success. Annie, a down-home girl who shoots like a man, joins the "Buffalo Bill Travelling Wild West Show", where she, through many (mis-?) adventures, falls in love with Frank Butler (Stephen Colbert). He finally sees her love and all is well.

"M-i-c-k-e-y M-o-u-s-e"





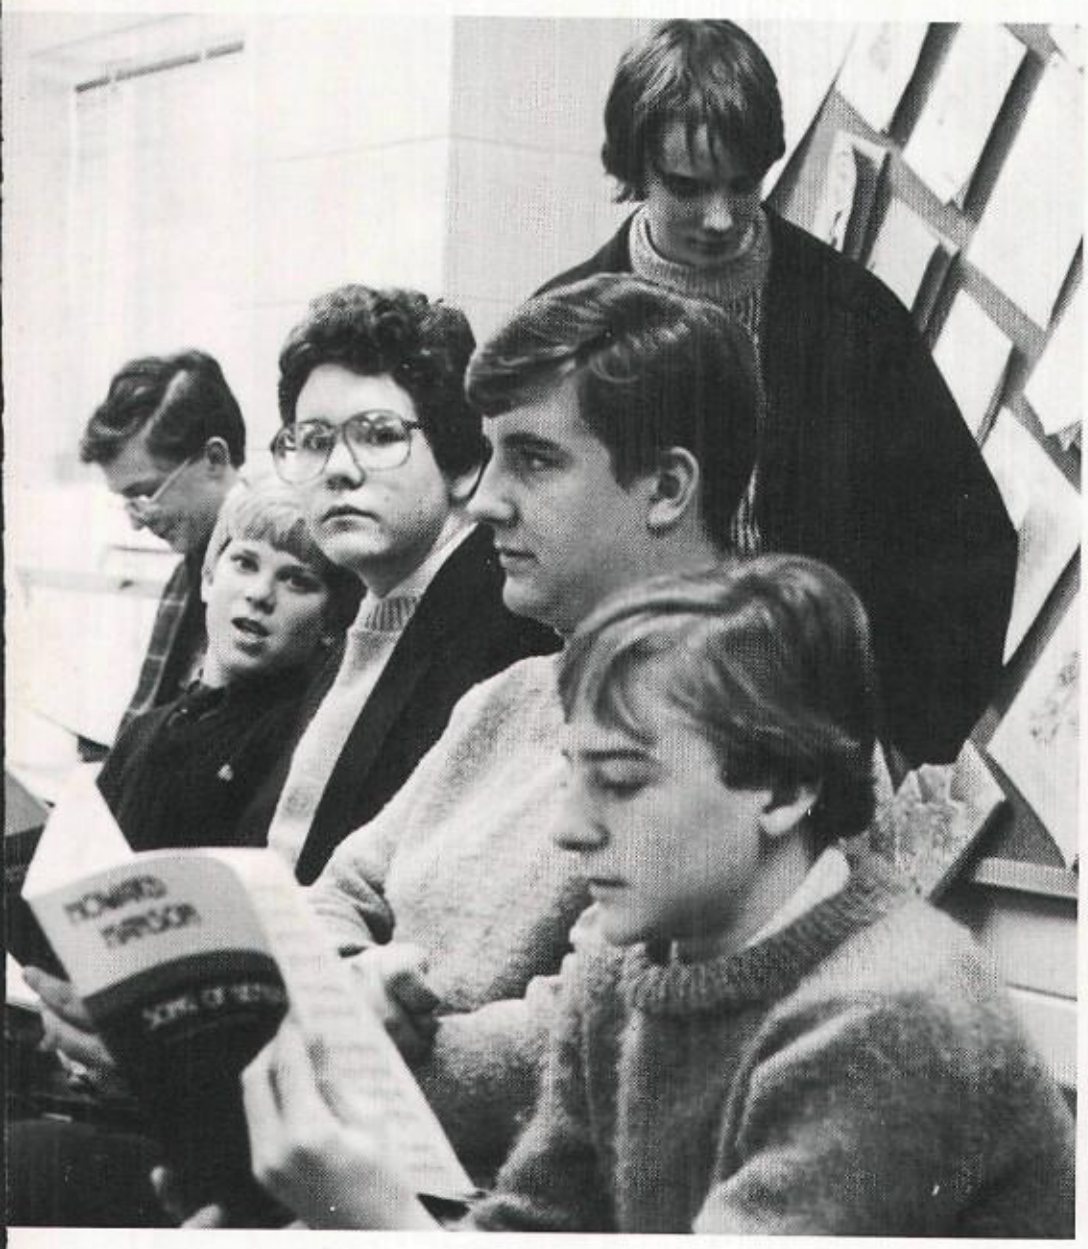


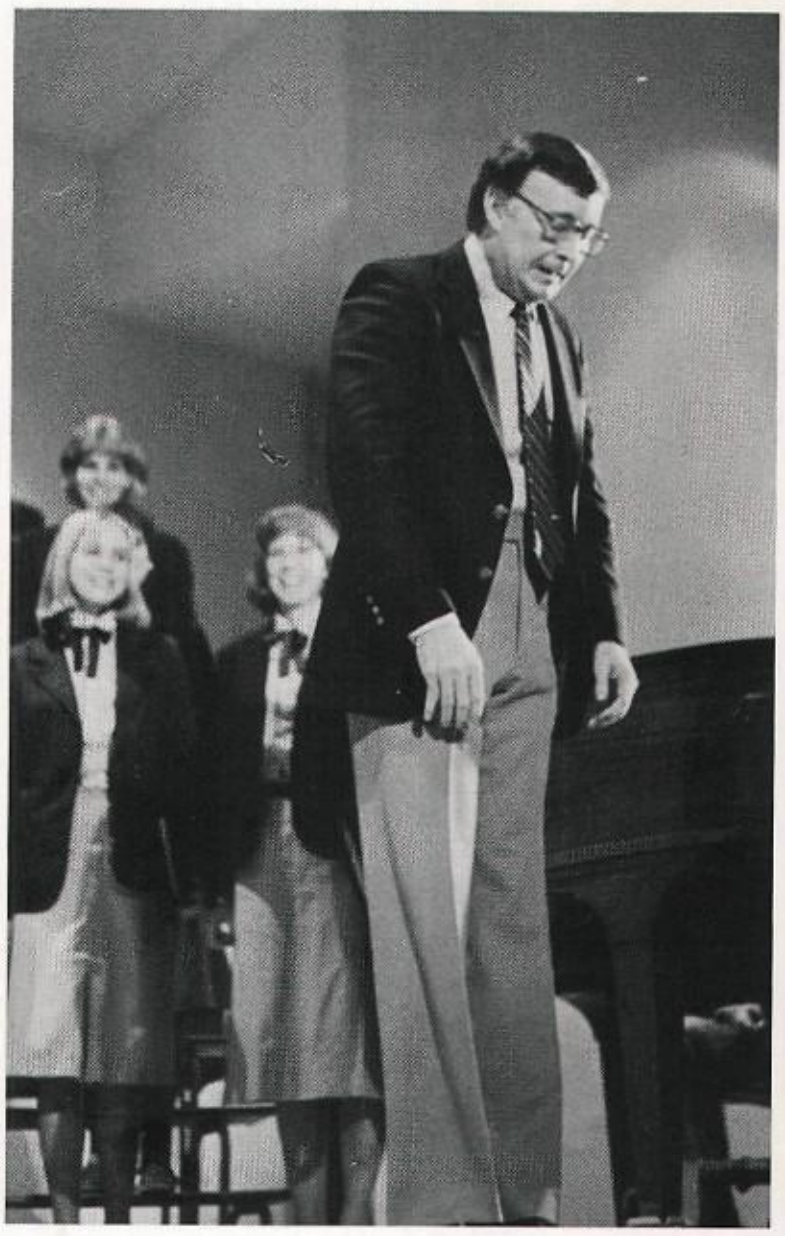
The Mickey Mouse Concert, a tribute to the late Walt Dis creator of Donald Duck, Mickey Mouse and all the other figures know so well, was a great success. Some highlights were An Anders, in a stunning ballet performance as the White Rabbit, Teachers' choir in Mickey Mouse hats and Trapier and Kelle chimney sweeps.

Music must take rank as the highest of the fine arts — as the one which, more than any other, ministers o human welfare.

Herbert Spencer
Essays on Education

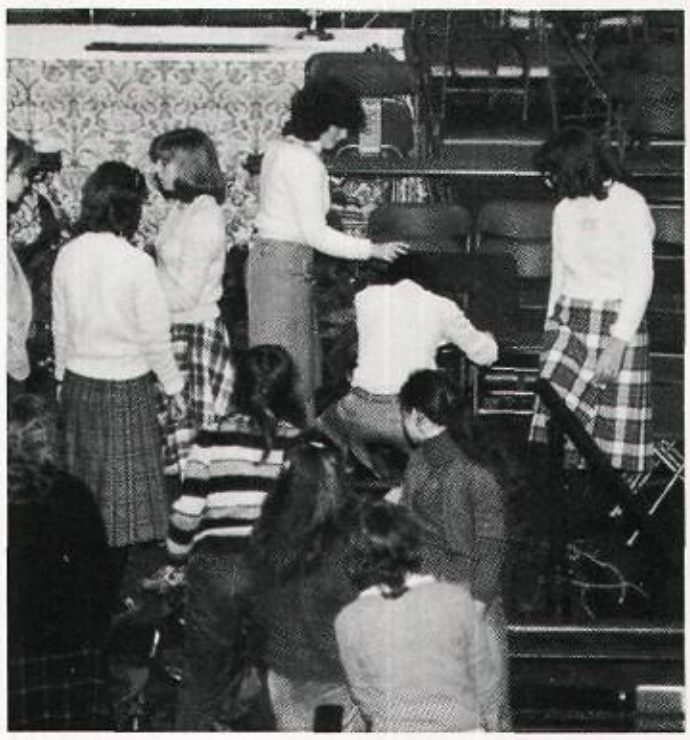
The third annual choral workshop featured Mr. Charles Worley from Dallas, Texas, as guest conductor. He worked with the middle and upper school choirs for several days and ended the workshop with a magnificient concert on February 5, 1983.

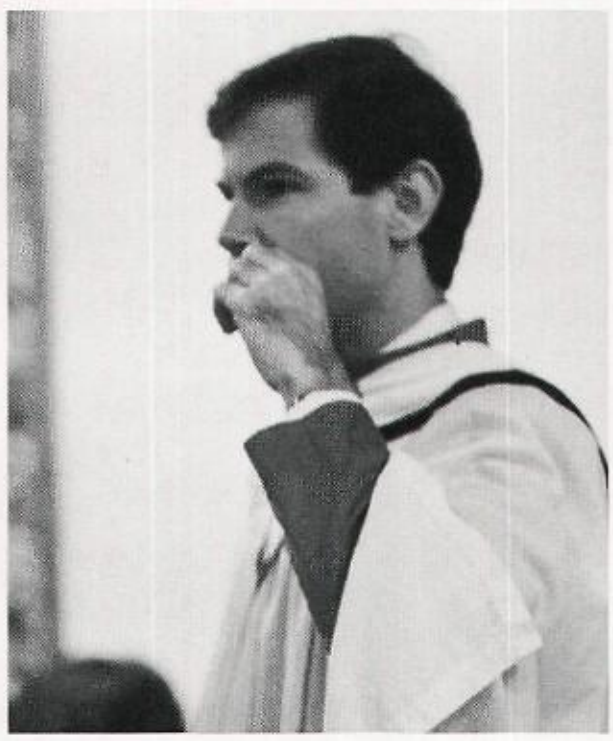




Thanks Be to God!!!

A Festival of Lessons and Carols was again performed this year, as for the last 14 years, in the Cathedral of St. Luke and St. Paul. The program, which consists of several lessons from the Old and New Testament, thereby underlining our Judeo-Christian heritage, also includes carols performed by the Middle and Upper School choirs. There was also a candlelight procession with banners made by the Fine Arts Department.





And the night shall be filled with music,
And the cares, that infest the day,
Shall fold their tents, like the Arabs,
And as silently steal away.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow
The Day Is Done

Each year near Founder's Day, all the choirs on campus combine their talents in a program dedicated to the founder of Porter-Gaud School, Dr. Anthony Toomer Porter. The 1982 Founder's Day Concert included a wide variety of old and new folk music from around the world and ended with all choirs joining to sing a medley from the current popular Broadway show and movie Annie.

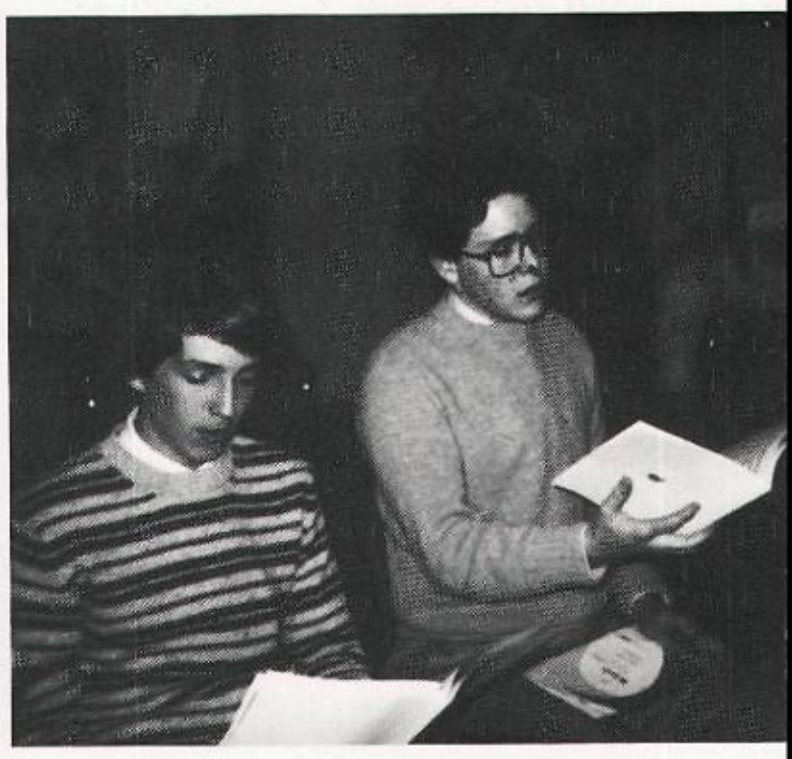
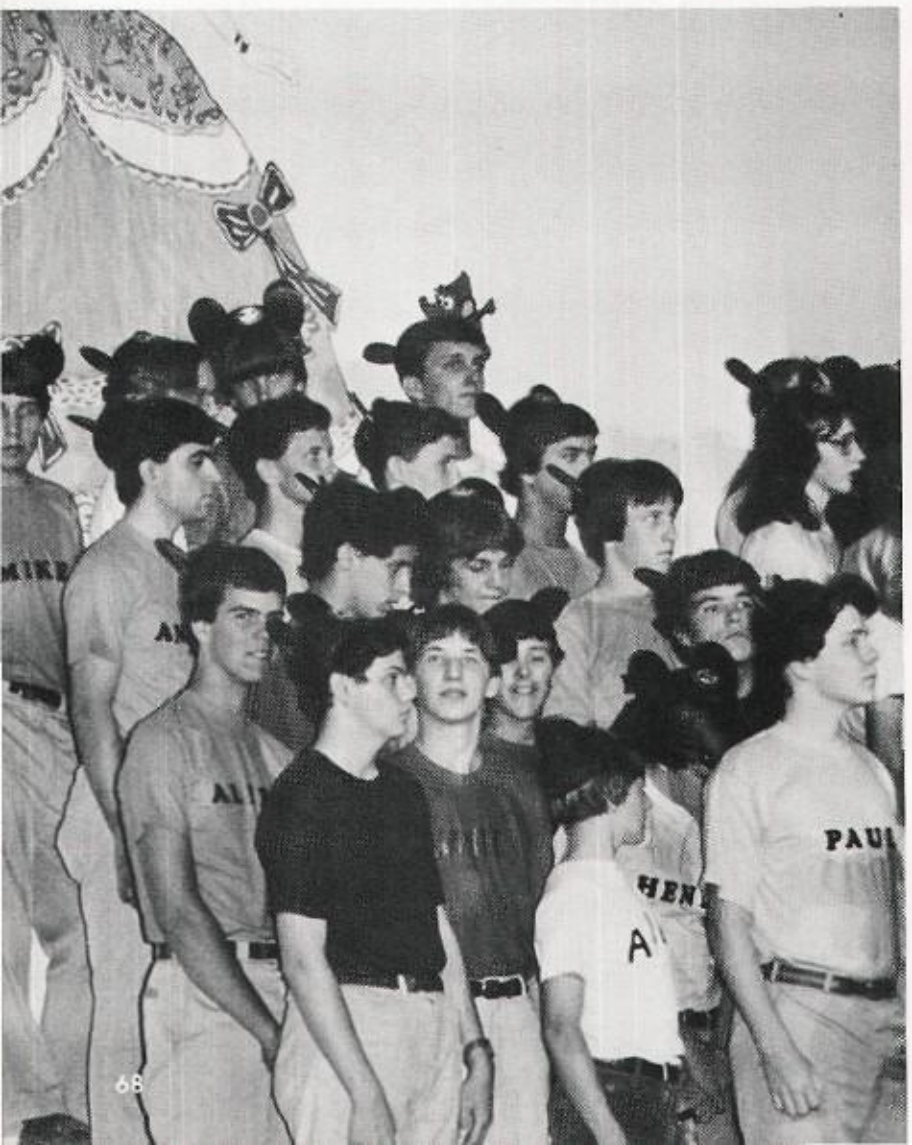
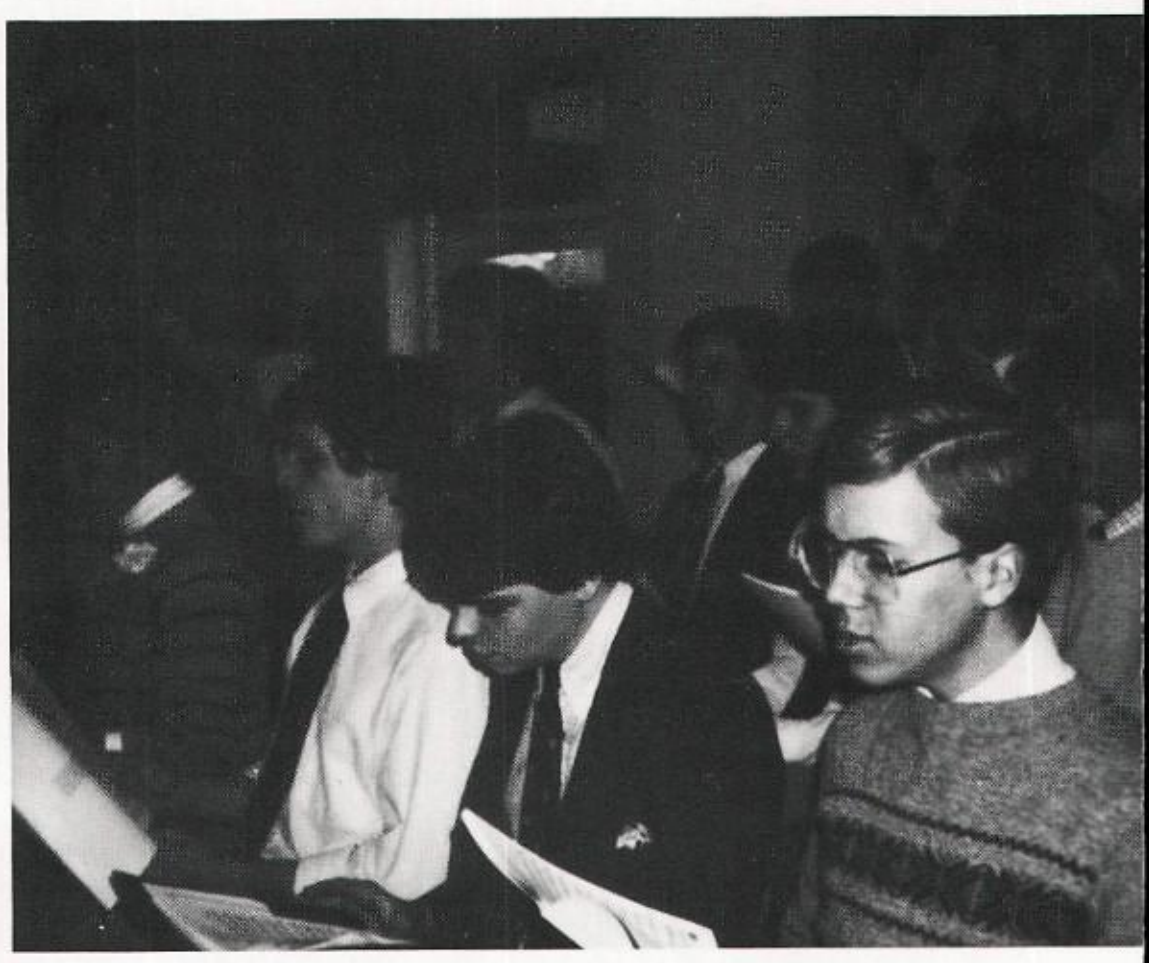
Highlights of the Porter-Gaud Glee Club's fourteenth year have included the Spring Brea Trip with the Girls Chorus to Birmingham and New Orleans, a concert at Ashley Hall School, outstanding all-around performances, led by a remarkable group of Senior singers. The Festi of Lessons and Carols, the Founder's Day Concert, the winter choral workshop, the conc with the Dartmouth Glee Club, Damn Yankees and the Spring Musical Salute were all enhanc by the rich male sound of this year's tenors an basses.







Of course the music is a great difficulty. You see, if one plays good music, people don't listen, and if one plays bad music people don't talk.

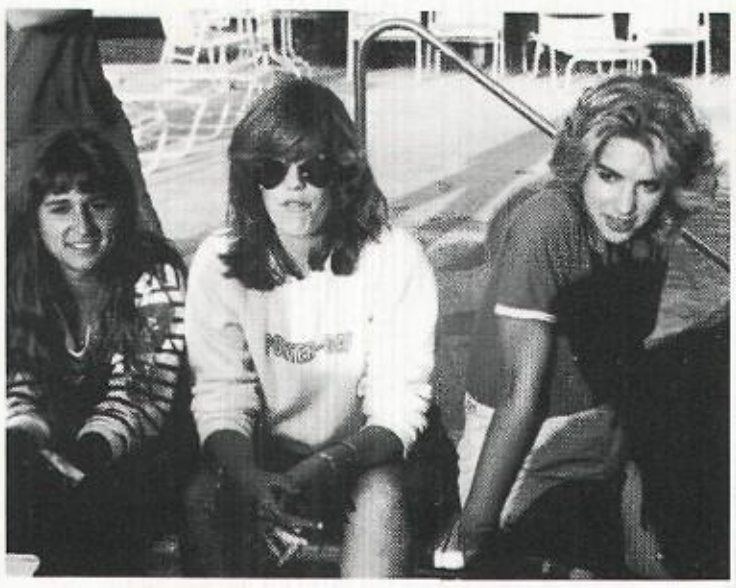
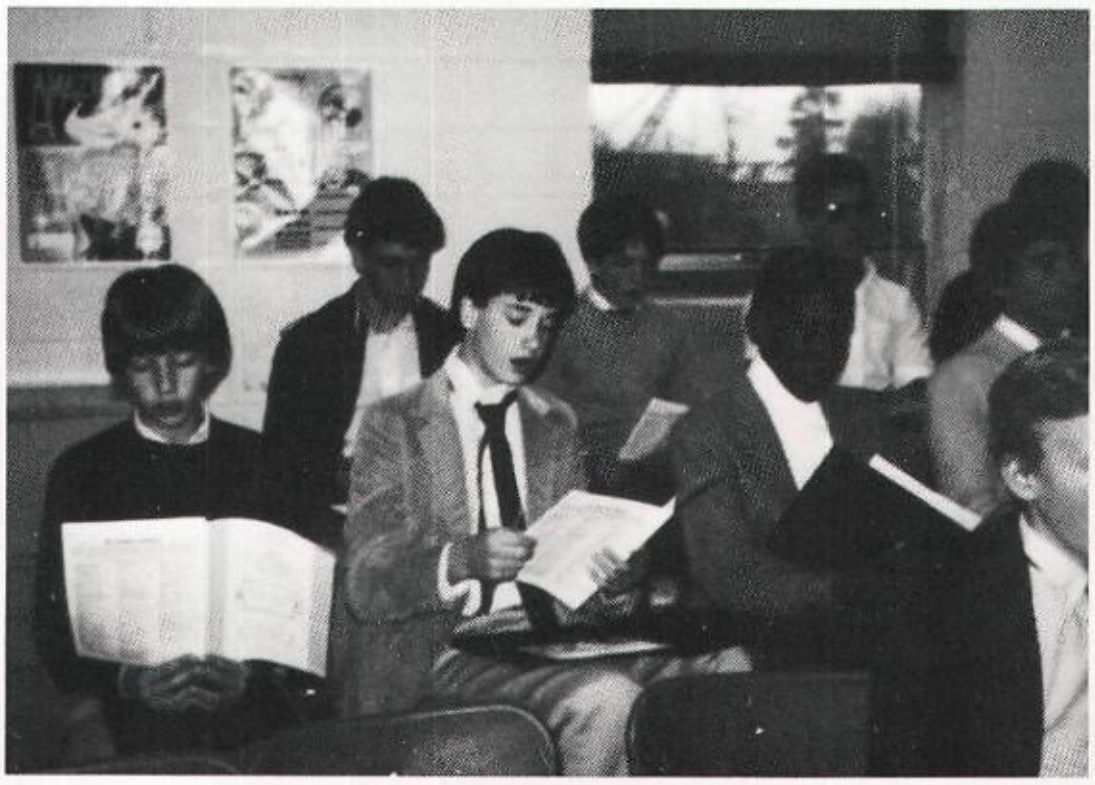
The Picture of Dorian Gray

This was a particularly exciting year for the Upper School Girls Chorus. Dedication, confidence and excellent voices contributed to their successful performances at the Founder's Day Concert, Lessons and Carols, the winter choral workshop, Damn Yankees, and the Spring concert. Aside from these regularly scheduled performances, the Girls Chorus presented their own Festival of Lessons and Carols at St. Matthews Episcopal Church in Darlington, S.C., sang a Christmas concert at Citadel Mall, and joined the Glee Club for a special concert with the Dartmouth Glee Club and a wonderful spring tour to Birmingham and New Orleans.



There should be music in every house — except the one next door.

George Bernard Shaw



The Middle School Boys' Choir, in addition to its regular schedule of concerts on campus, sang at Christmastime in the Dock Street Theatre with the Robert Ivey Ballet Company, and made a spring weekend tour to Atlanta. The year was made more enjoyable by several social events with the Middle School Girls' Choir.

The Middle School Girls' Choir has worked very ha and has performed well this year. Aside from their regularly scheduled concerts, they performed a prog of Christmas music at the Sandpiper Convalescent Center in Mount Pleasant and enjoyed a most succes spring concert tour to North Carolina. Other highlight of the year included several social events with the Middle School Boys' Choir.

Music expresses that which cannot be said and on which it impossible to be silent.

Victor Hugo

The Chamber Singers reached new heights of performance this year and were great musical ambassadors for Porter-Gaud to the fall independent teacher's conference, to the Air Force Base, to Myrtle Beach, to the Charleston Museum, and at numerous community events throughout the year.

The Advanced and Intermediate Orchestras, directed by Mrs. Ruth Goldsmith, are an exciting part of Porter-Gaud's music program. They meet together twice a week for classes and rehearsals. They have participated in the Solo and Ensemble Festival sponsored by the South Carolina Music Educators Association Orchestra Division and have presented a Christmas Concert in Gwynette Auditorium.

Although in a new conference, the Varsity Football team remained competitive and finished the season with a 6-4 record. Several of the losses came with last minute scores by the other teams. The highlight of the season came when several of the players were named to the all-conference and all-area teams. Players named to the all-conference team were Michael Boensch, Andy Donaldson, Dixon Pearce, Jim Collins, Grant Patton, Hugh Aiken, Johnny Gatgounis, and Eddie Buxton, who was also named to the all-area team.

ch of the spirit shown during the football games should be attributed to the cheerleaders. ir leading of cheers to encourage our players helps in our teams' success.

Powderpuff

This year's Powderpuff match-up saw the Junior/Senior team defeat the Freshman/Sophomore team by a score of 14-0. An interception returned for a touchdown by Helen Postell, and a touchdown run by Julia Pinckney proved to be the difference in this well-played and hard-fought game.

Notre Dame Juggler

The Junior Varsity team under the direction of Bill Duane and Fred Hamilton, enjoyed the first ever undefeated season, going 5-0. The offense, led by the running of Derek Sessions, John Ansley, and Anthony Tellis, and the passing of Peter Duane to Freddy Renken, averaged at least thirty points a game. While defense stars Johnny Chakeris, Graham Eubanks, Scott Bluestein, and Andrew Brown led the defense that allowed only two touchdowns all season.

The Bantam Football team played with great spirit this season. Although the players were often out-matched and out-numbered, they always gave their best. All of the young athletes promise to be outstanding J.V. Football players.

In this year's Cross Country team, youth and inexperience did not go hand in hand with defeat. Led by the running of David Walsh, Wills Geils, and Ben Dixon the Cross Country team finished the season as A-AA state runners-up. With the entire team returning the Cyclones promise once again to be a Cross Country A-AA powerhouse.

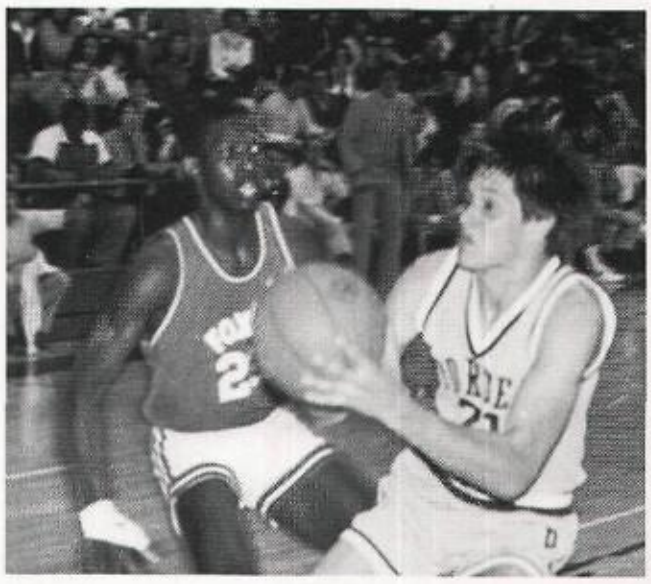
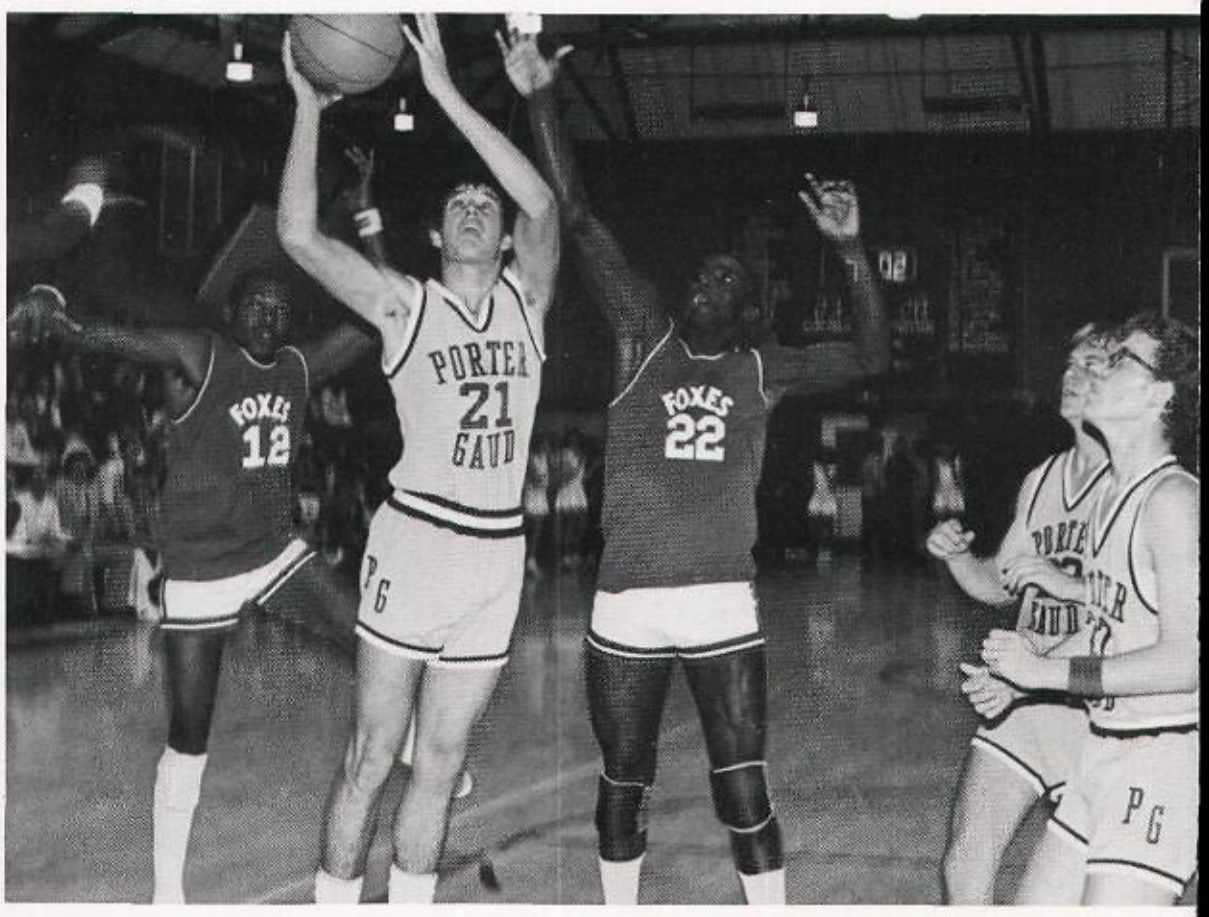
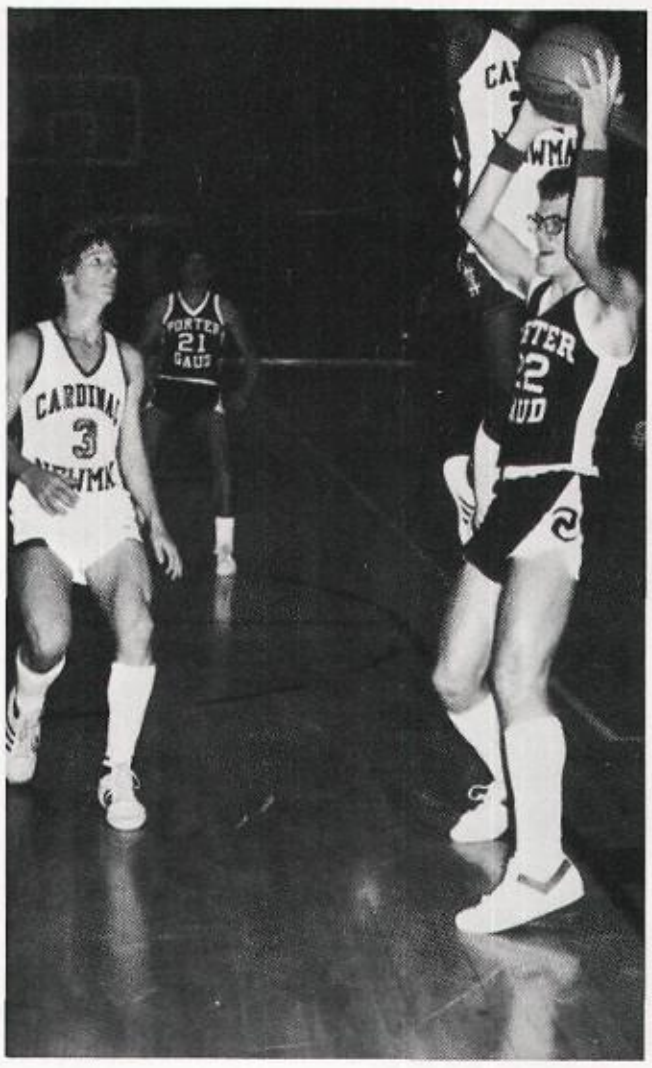
How to Keep You

The Varsity Boys Basketball team, playing a non-conference schedule, enjoyed a season of competitive basketball and exciting wins. Strong inside play by Todd Thompson and the outside shooting of Drake Rogers helped to keep the team competitive, while a strong bench and good coaching helped to lead the team to several wins.

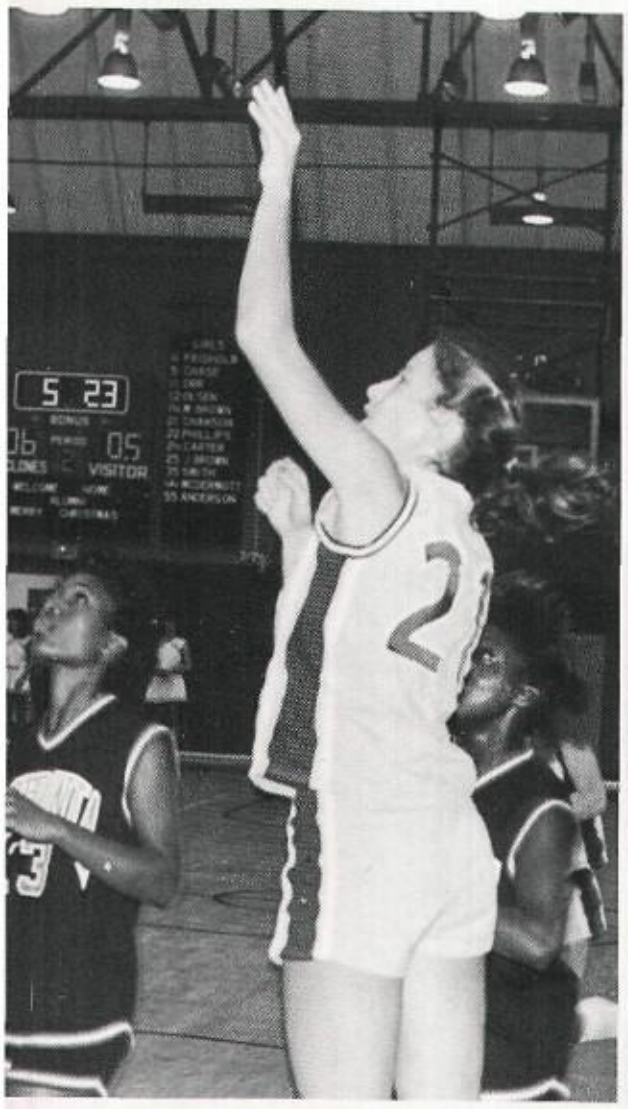


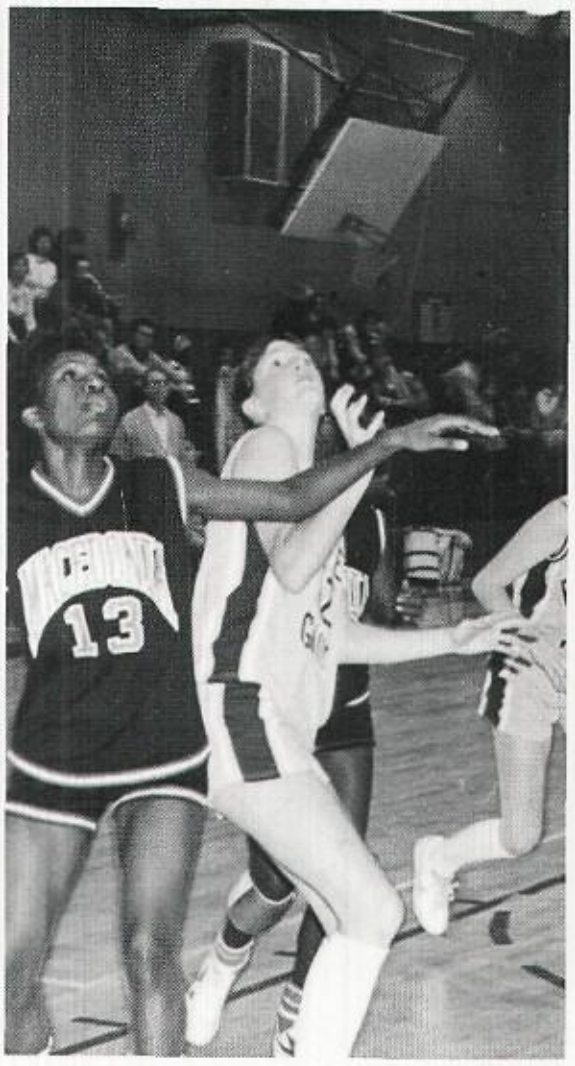




Come, Watson, come! The game is afoot.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle
The Return of Sherlock Holmes



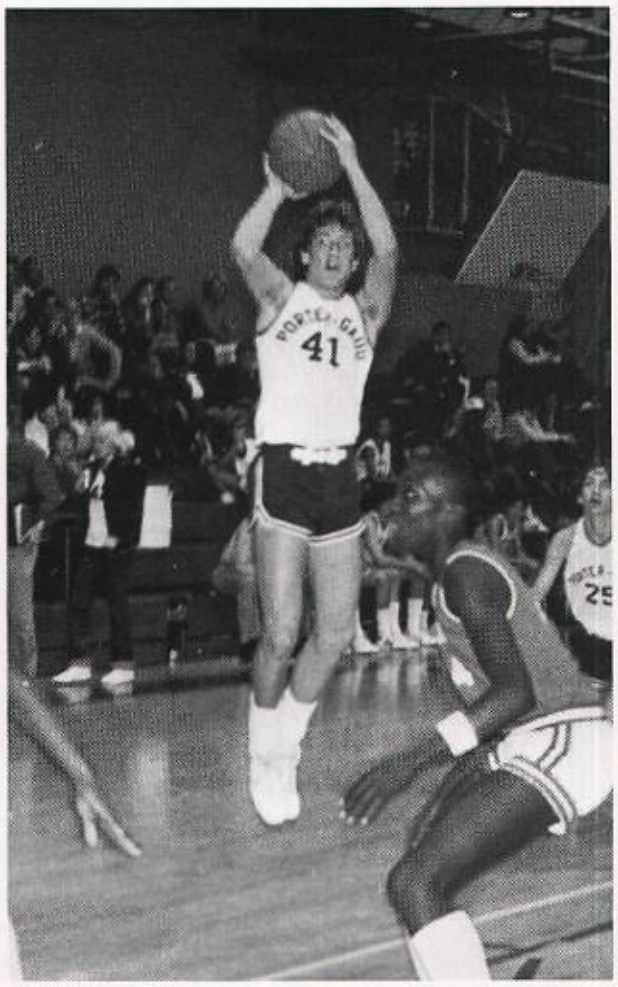


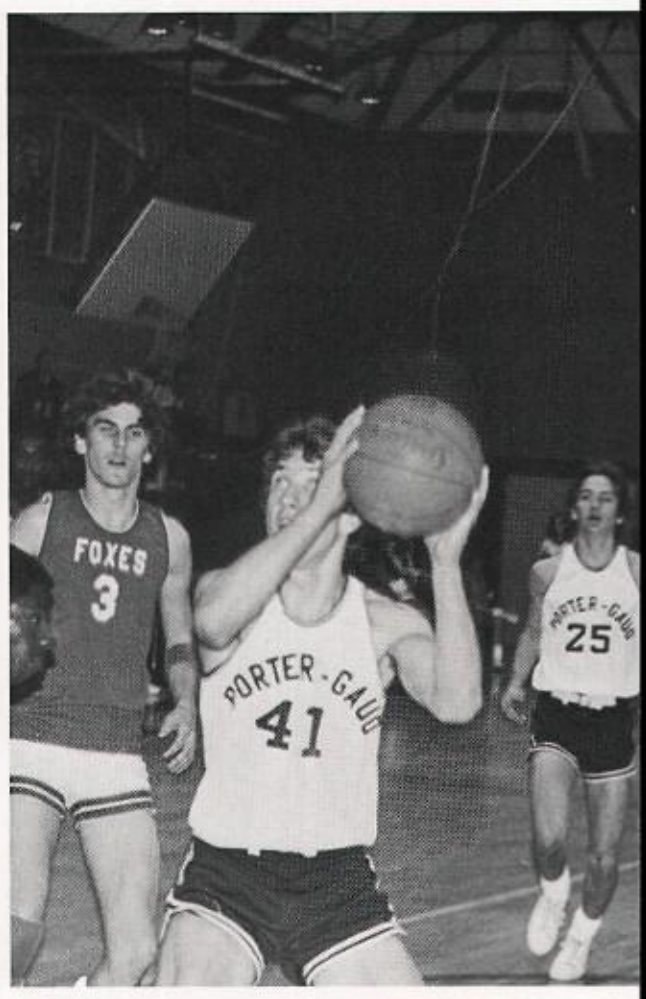
This year's Varsity Girls Basketball Team was led by the strong inside play of Erin Chanson and the outside shooting of Fredee Chase. Often outplayed and outnumbered, this year's team remained competitive in all of the games and had some exciting victories.

We'll onward and conquer,
And never say fail!

Kellogg
Practical Recitations

The Junior Varsity Boys Basketball team was led by the strong inside play of Tom Finnegan and Freddy Renken along with the outside shooting of Steven Barkowitz. Peter Duane and Trey Thompson offered strong guard play and with a strong bench, this year's team remained competitive and enjoyed a fairly successful season.





The virtue lies
In the struggle not the prize.

Richard Monckton Milnes
The World to the Soul

The Junior Varsity Girls Basketball team was composed of 7th and 8th graders. Usually outplayed by teams with older and taller players, they were characterized by their hard work and constant hustle. They offered exciting basketball for the fans to watch for the entire season.

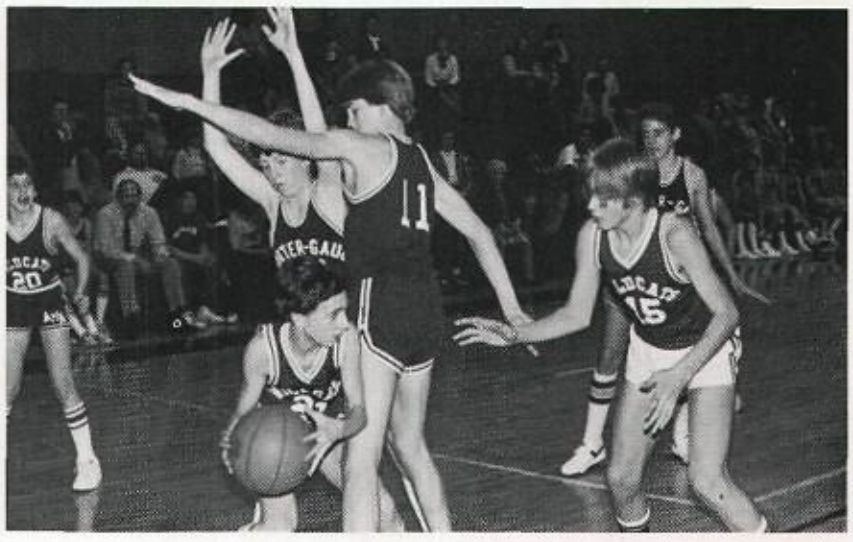
The Eighth Grade Bantam Basketball team finished with a successful season. They were undefeated in their league in which they played against local and out-of-town private schools. Paul O'Brien, James Conner, Price Whitaker, Will Youngblood, and Chris Condon lead the team to many great victories.



Play up, play up, and play the game.
Sir Henry Newbolt

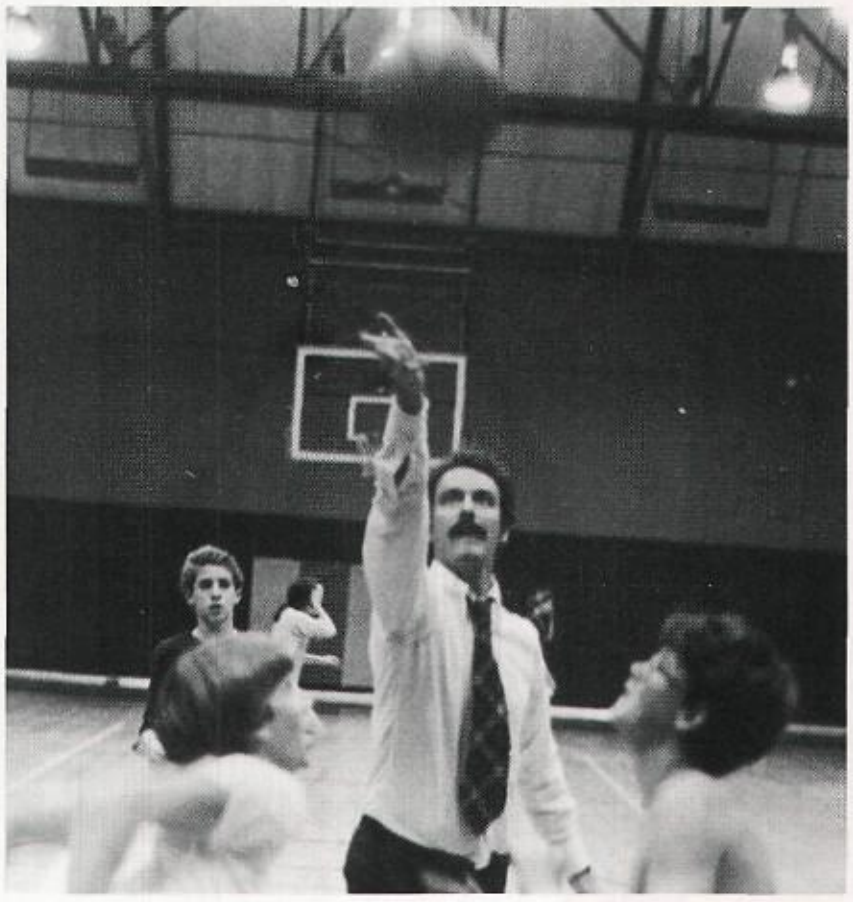
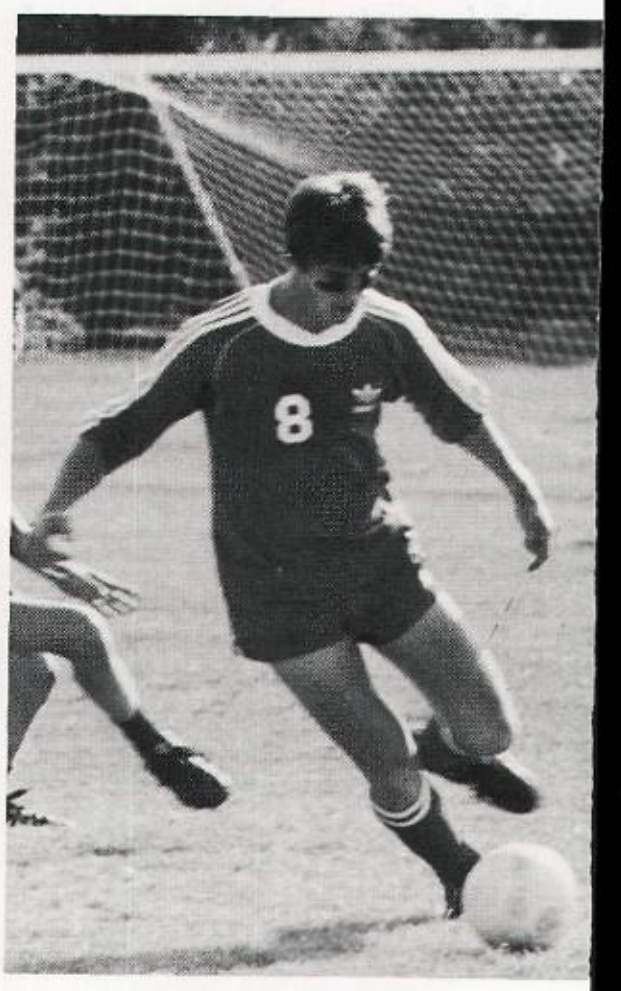
This year the Seventh Grade Bantam Basketball Team, under the direction of Mr. Robinson, was characterized by hard work and determined effort. Their practice was well worth the effort and they enjoyed a successful season.



Strength lies not in defense but in attack.

Adolf Hitler
Mein Kampf

The Varsity Soccer team finished an outstanding season by claiming their second state championship in the past three years. The team was one of character and one with stars who learned to play together as the season wore on. By working together, this year's team succeeded once again in giving the fans outstanding games to watch.



Something attempted, something done,
Has earned a night's repose.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow
The Village Blacksmith

The Junior Varsity Soccer team, compiling a record of 6-2-1 enjoyed a successful season. Led by Richard Patrick and Andrew Brown in the offense, the team provided strong talent which led them to their victories. Many of the players demonstrate superior play and skill and we look forward to seeing them again next year.

Bantam Soccer

eventh and Eighth graders interested in playing soccer gathered y in November to form this year's bantam soccer teams: Porter- d Gray (7th grade) and Porter-Gaud Maroon (8th grade). This season's schedule included many of the most highly skilled and experienced youth soccer teams in the Charleston area. The Gray team was 4-0-2 and the Maroon Team was 1-4-1.

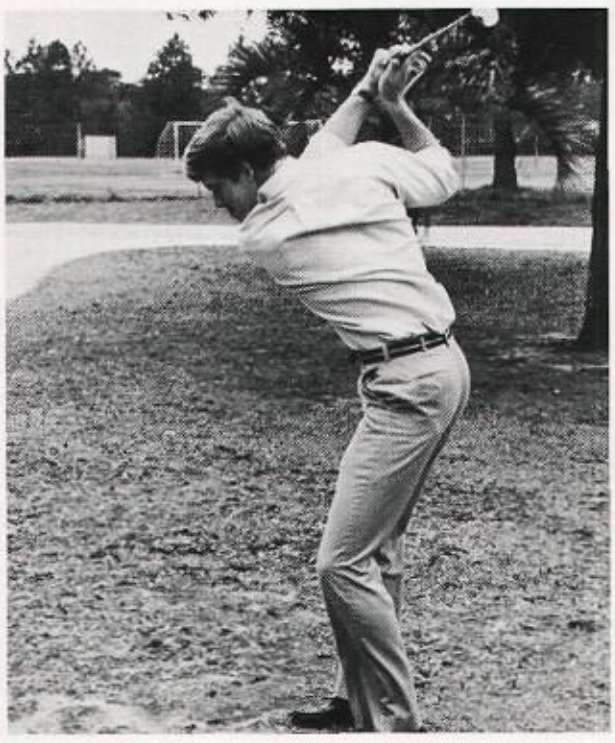
The Porter-Gaud Golf Team had a successful season led by their fearless coach, Peter Duane.



How awesome are your deeds!
Because of your great deeds your enemies cringe before you.

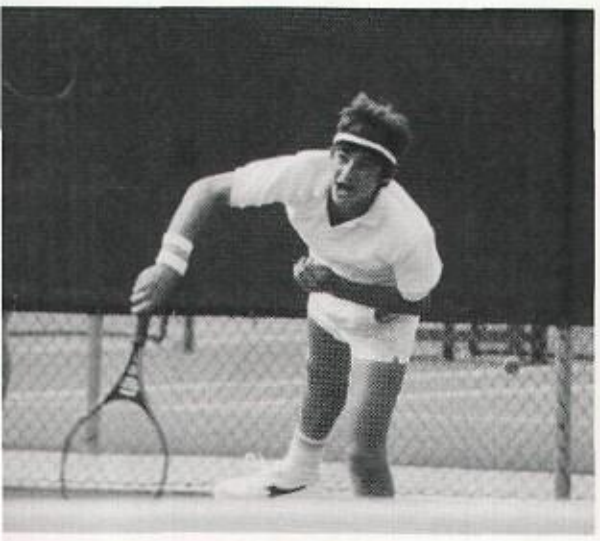
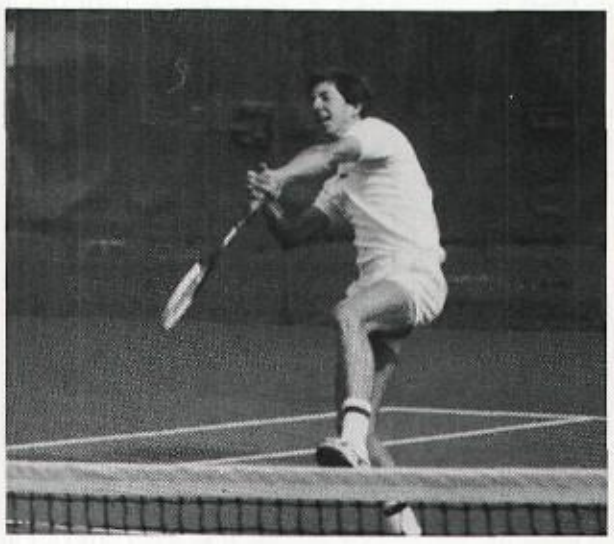
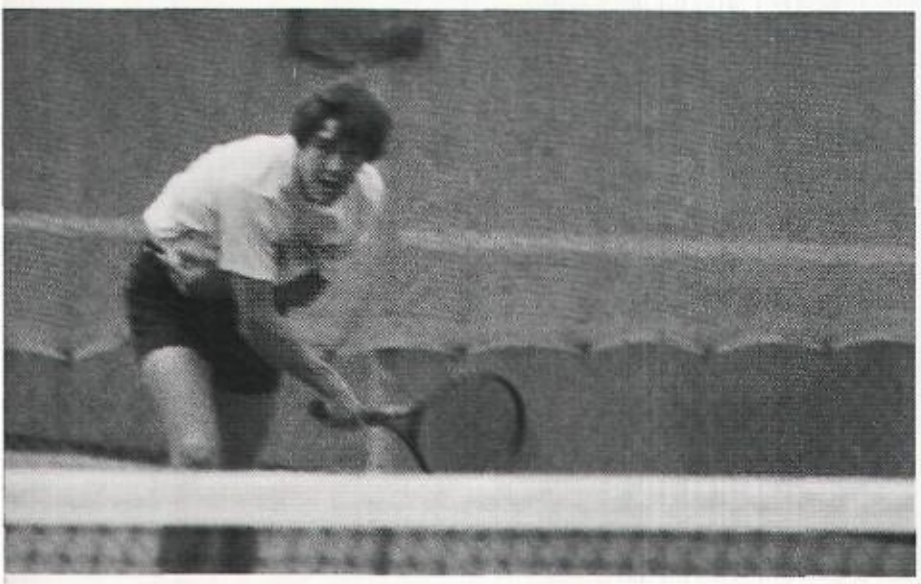
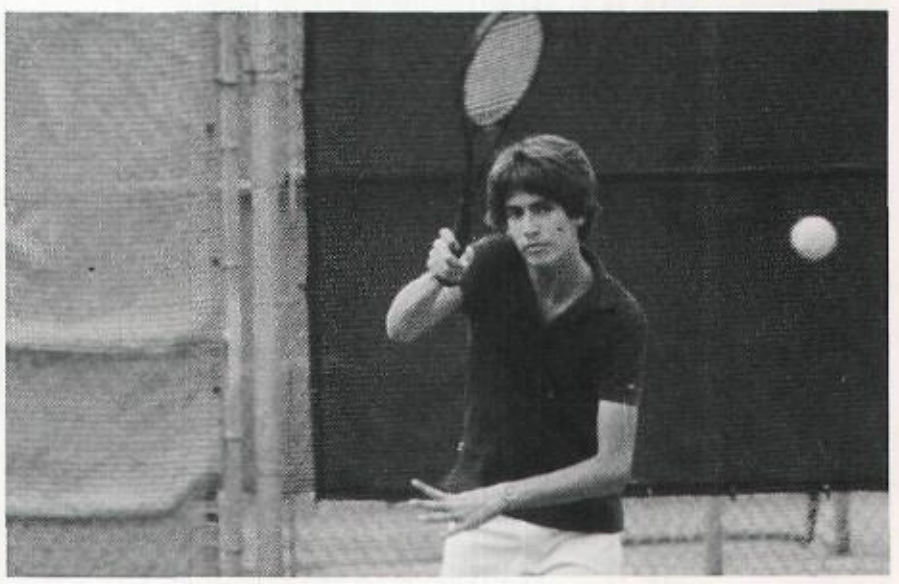
Psalm 66

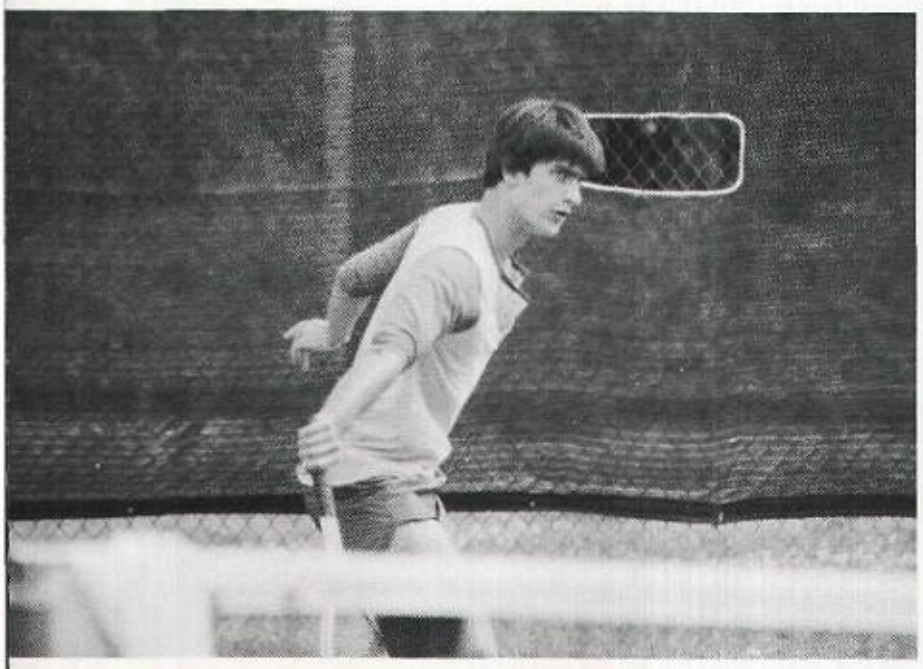


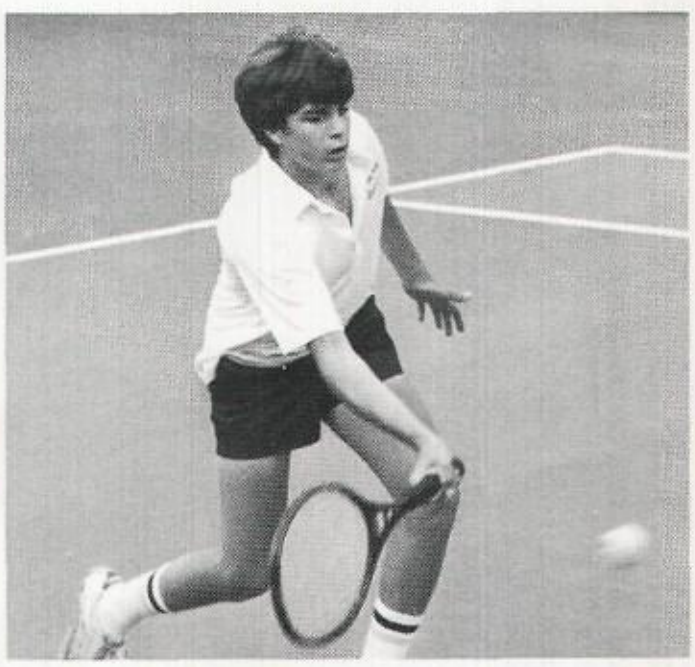


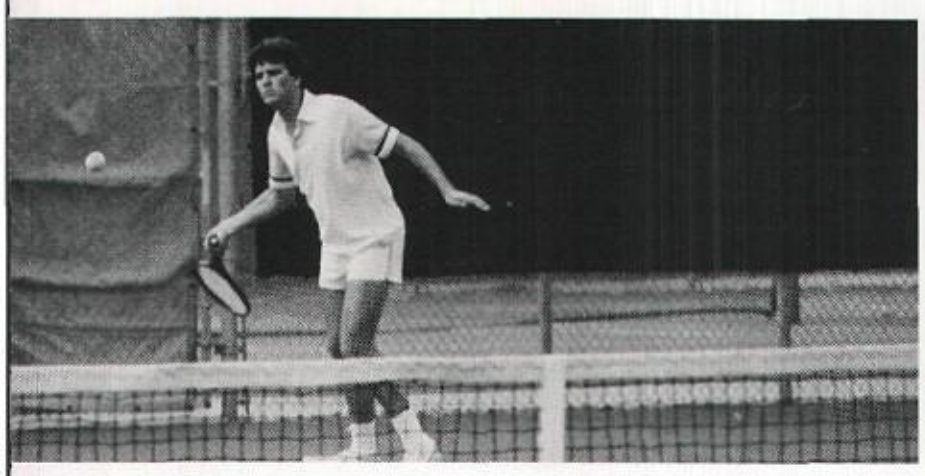
The 1982 Tennis Squad under Blackburn Hughes had an 8-1-1 record and won the State A-AA Championship held at Hilton Head. Mr. Hughes stated they were the best team he had coached in over 30 years.











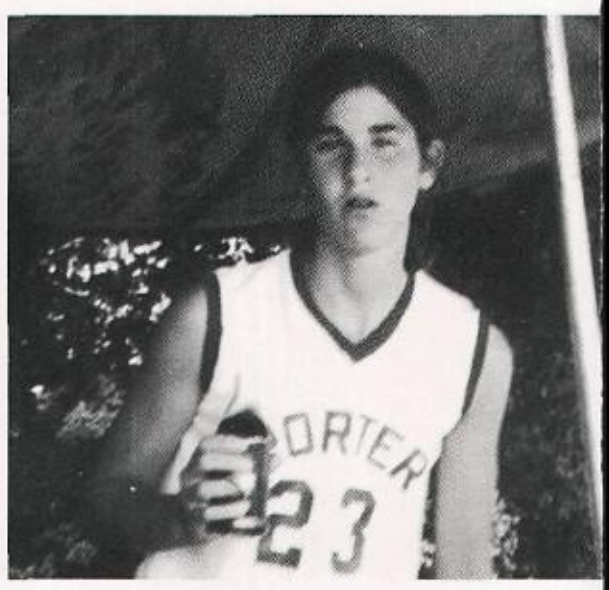
A track meet is where a lot of young men, suddenly discovering themselves caught outdoors in th underwear, start running like hell.

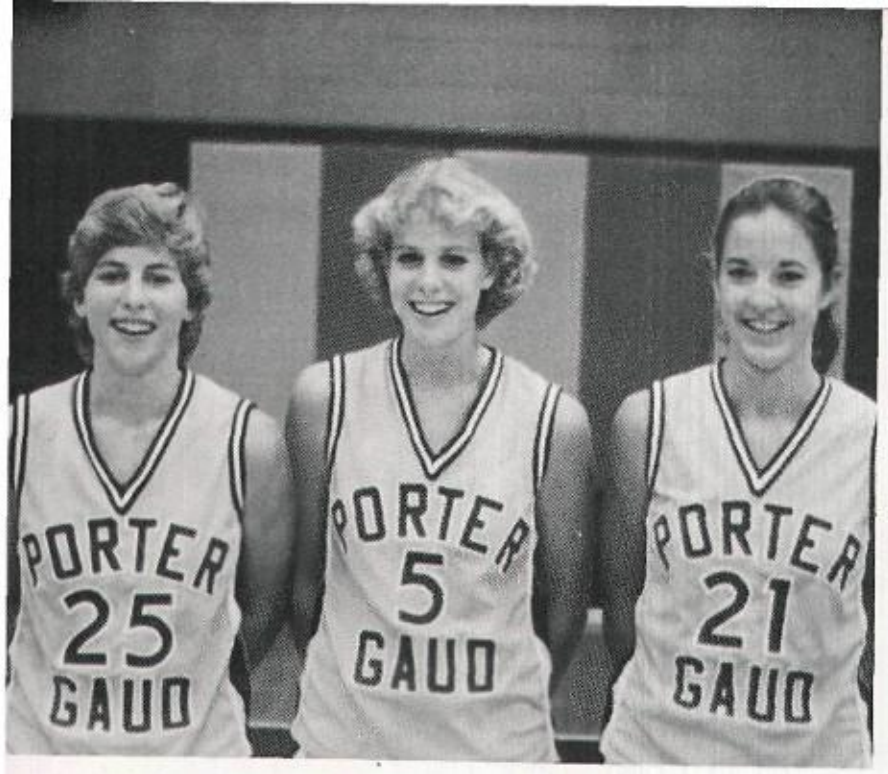
Braude's Handbook of Stories for Toastmast and Speak

The 1982 Boys Track team raced to a 7-4 regular season record, ran away with the Lower State Championship, and finished second in the State Meet.

The Girls Track team won the Lower State Class A Meet to claim the first track title in the history of girls' athletics at Porter-Gaud.

Both teams deserved a lot of credit this past season for their successful competitiveness.





The important thing is to be on the spot at the moment most favorable for gaining the desired advantage . . .

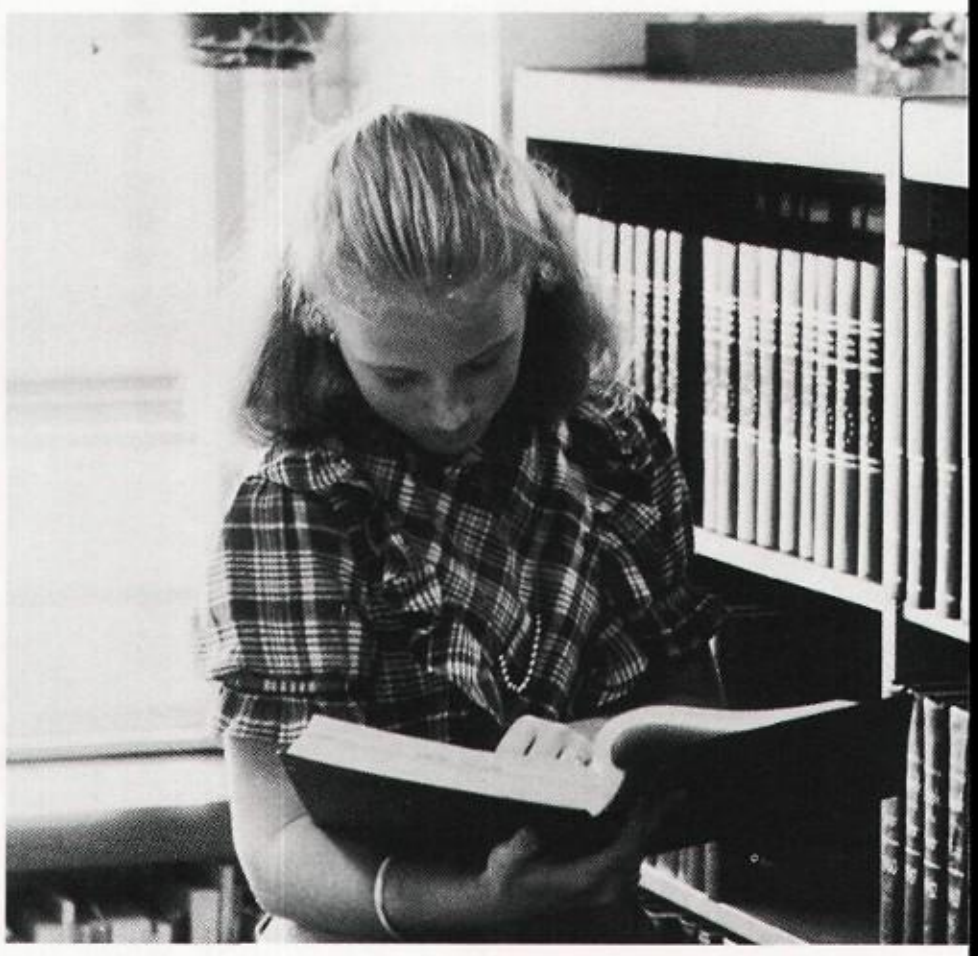
The Education of Henry Adar



Students in grades seven and eight are preparing for high school, and must adjust to a totally new system. The modular math provides students with a change of teachers every six weeks. Seventh graders take a term each of art appreciation, music appreciation, and cultures of the Pacific. Life science is offered in seventh grade, and earth science in the eighth. GAWA is a special course for eighth graders in which they learn to watch the news and take notes on the important items.

Diplomas were awarded to 72 Seniors in Commencement exercises held Sunday, May 30, on the lawn. The presentations were made by Thomas S. Tisdale, Jr., Chairman of the Board of Trustees. Kenneth S. Richardson and Christopher N. Olsen led the Class of 1982 as first and second honor graduates, respectively. After the exercises were ended and as the graduates marched from the lawn, Dr. Porter's old bell pealed a rousing salute to the Class of 1982.

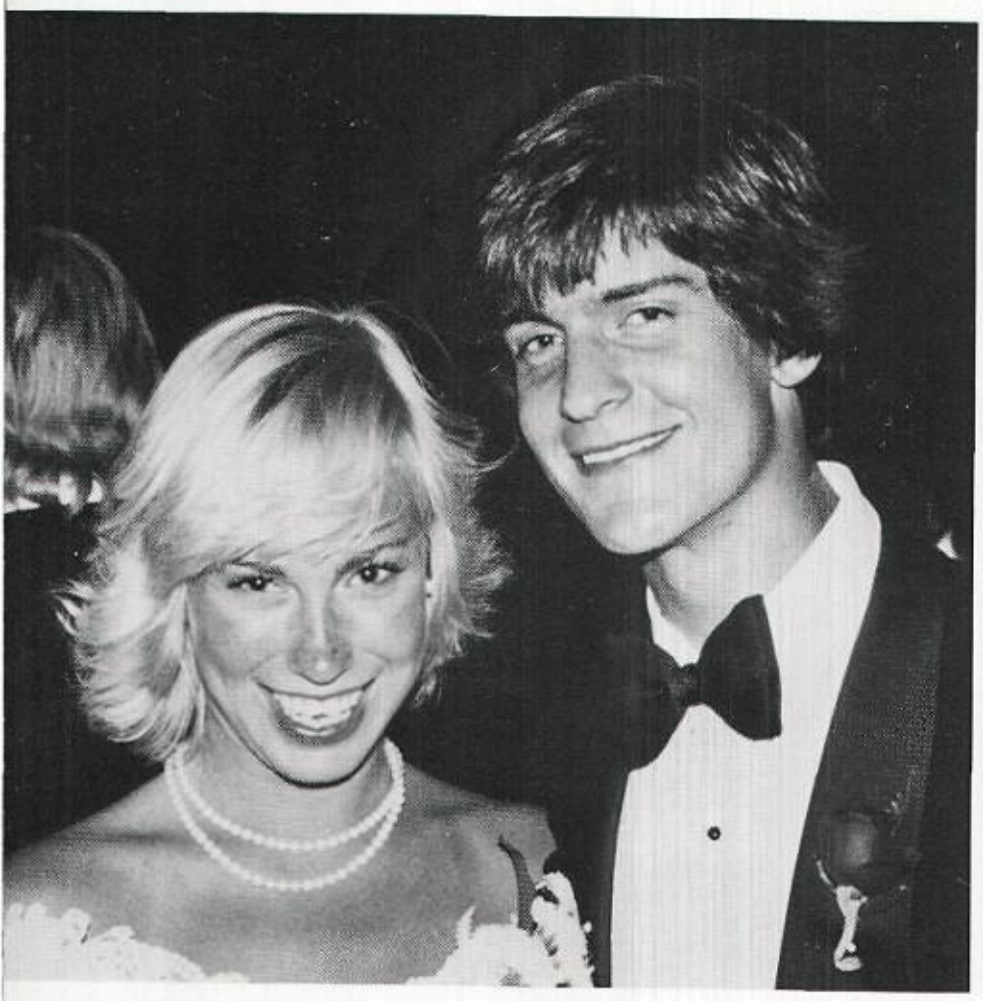
I have had playmates, I have had companions,
In my days of childhood, in my joyful school days —
All, all are gone, the old familiar faces.
Charles Lamb
Old Familiar Faces

Will you, won't you, will you, won't
You, will you join the dance?
Lewis Carroll
Alice's Adventures in Wonderland

The 1982 Junior-Senior Dance set a new standard for formal socials at Porter-Gaud. The setting at the Carolina Yatch Club could not have been more fitting for such an exciting occasion, and the band "Ninth Row" played such a variety of great music that there were times during the night in which everyone there was dancing.

A very merry, dancing, drinking,
Laughing, quaffing, and unthinking time.

John Dryden
The Secular Masque



There is a land of pure delight,
Where saints immortal reign;
Infinite day excludes the night,
And pleasures banish pain.

All theories of what a good play is, or how a good play should be written, are futile. A good play is a play which when acted upon the boards makes an audience interested and pleased.

This year the Polygon staff has worked diligently to produce the memory of 1983. With many new staff members, we all helped each other to learn and to understand what the making of a yearbook entailed.

The entire staff attended a workshop in Columbia for three days in July, where we learned the basics of the annual process. Then it was back to Charleston for the rigorous task of selling ads and beginning the work on the actual pages of our own Polygon.

Now, after months of work, days of waiting, and hours of anticipation, we are proud to present to you — the Polygon 1983.

You will be damned if you do.
— And you will be damned if you don't.

The Party's Over

We're poor little lambs who've lost our way,
Baa! Baa! Baa!
We're little black sheep who've gone astray,
Baa — aa — aa!
Gentleman rankers out on the spree,
Damned from here to Eternity,
God ha' mercy on such as we,
Baa! Yah! Baa!

Rudyard Kipling

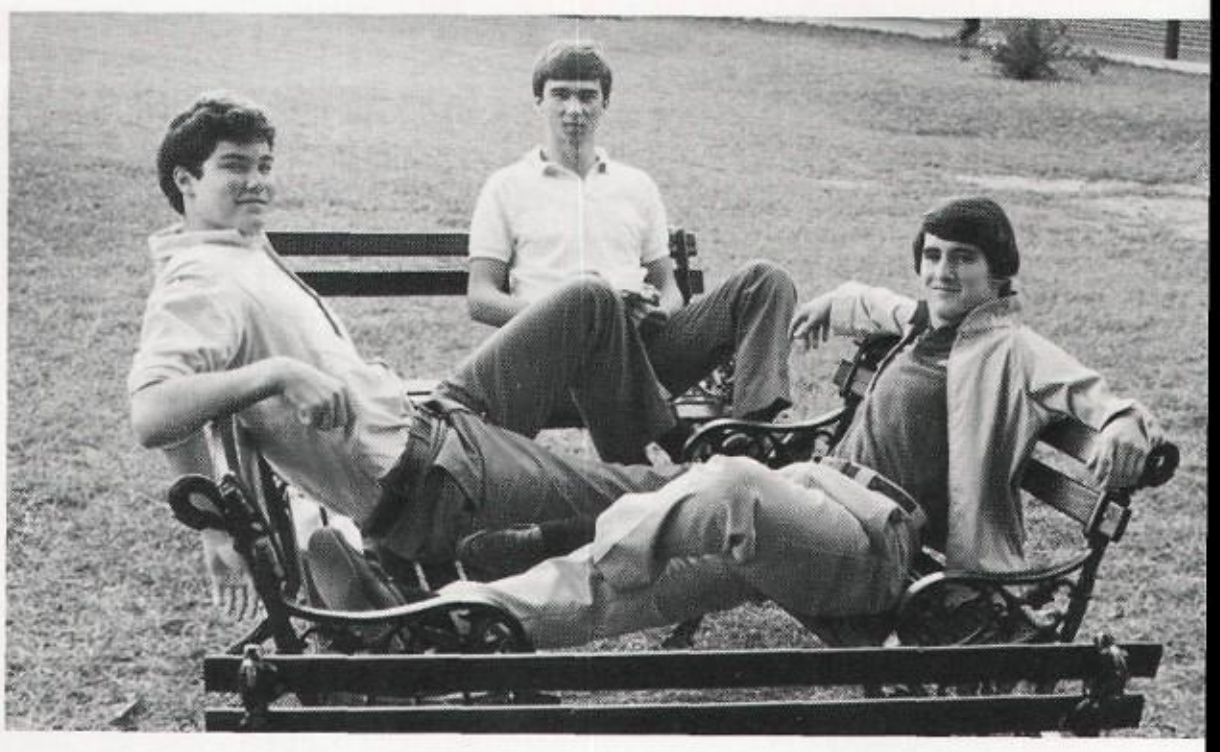
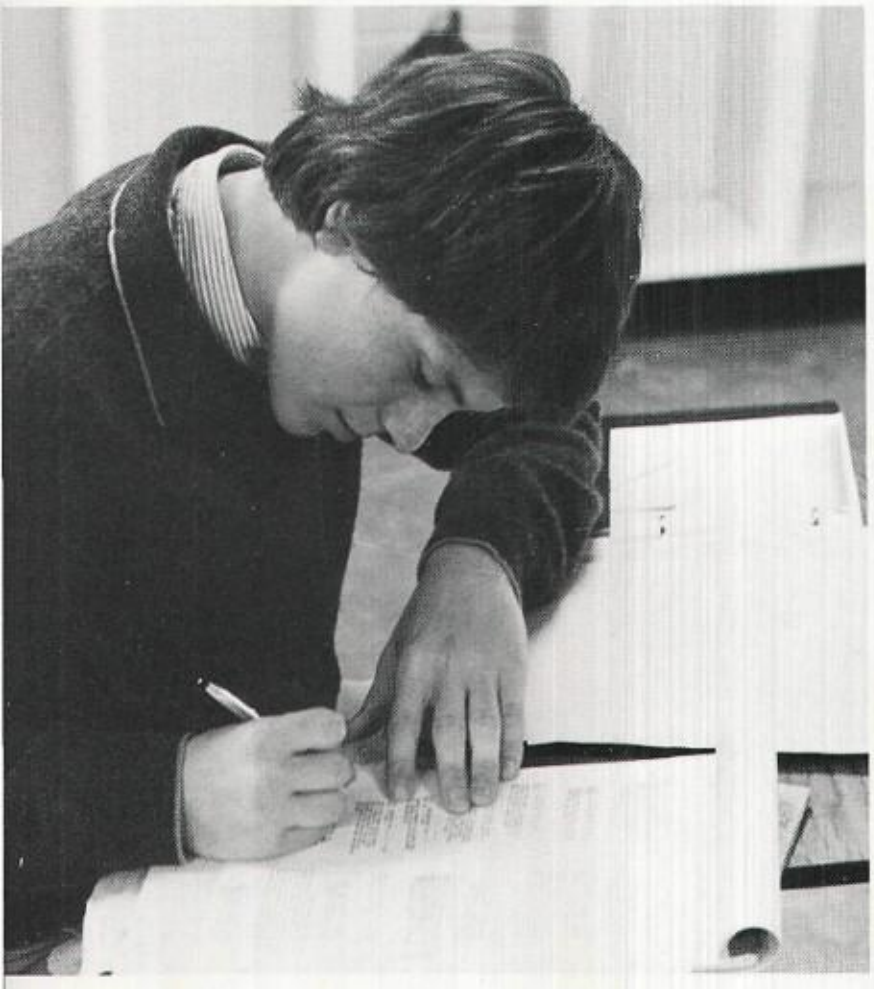
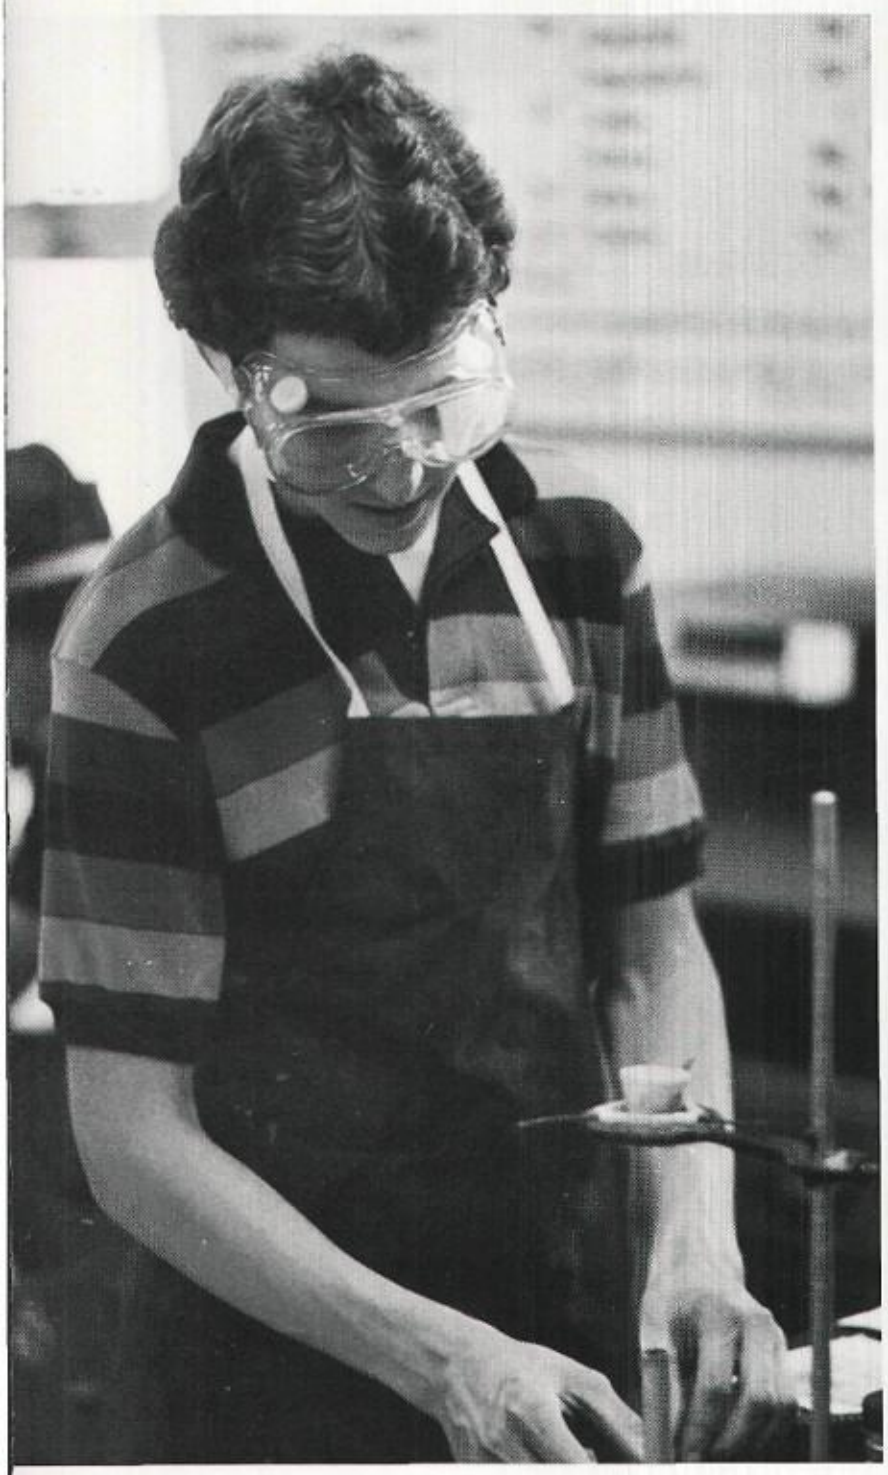
Ballads

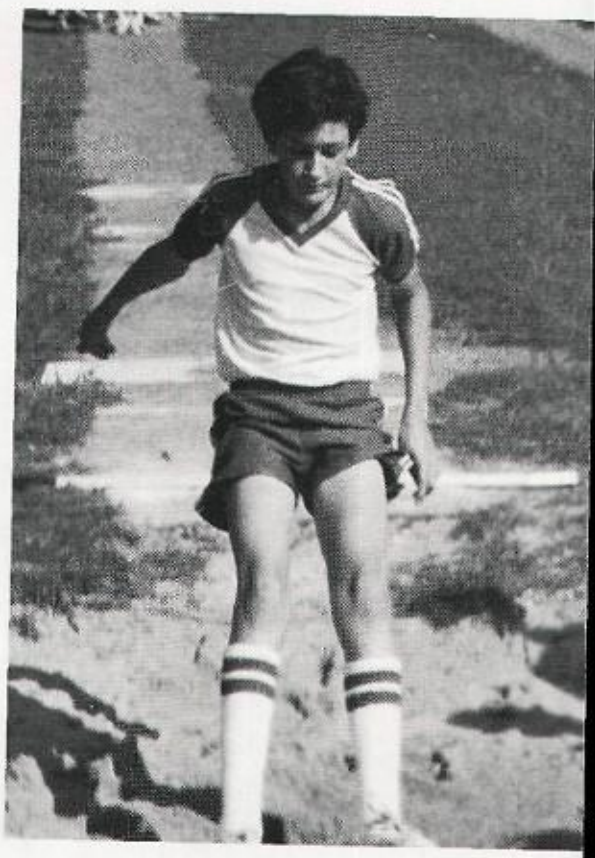






Life! we've been long together,
Through pleasant and through cloudy weather;
'Tis hard to part when friends are dear,
Perhaps 'twill cost a sigh, a tear;
Then steal away, give little warning,
Choose thine own time;
Say not "Good night"; but in some brighter clime
Bid me "Good morning."

Anna Letitia Barbauld
Ode to Life



Adieu, adieu, kind friends, adieu, adieu, adieu.
I can no longer stay with you.
I'll hang my harp on a weeping willow-tree.
And may the world go well with thee.
